U.S. Must Face Red China's Challenge, Dulles Declares

FLOODWALL SAVES PORTSMOUTH. Portsmouth, located in the southeastern tip of Ohio and the hub city for the giant atomic energy plant in nearby Pike County, is virtually closed off by flooding waters of the Scioto River (left) and the Ohio River (right). This aerial view, made March 7, shows water nearly to the floor level of the bridge over the Scioto. Arrow at upper right points to a section of the floodwall.

Up to $20,000 Taken

Two Bandits Grab Firestone Payroll

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Two tall bandits, quiet-speaking and businesslike, pulled guns on a paymaster of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. as he drove up to his office in a car today and escaped with between $15,000 and $20,000.

In making their getaway, the bandits used two company-owned vehicles. They first took the car of the paymaster, Cornelius Johns, forcing Johns and a guard, James Reynolds, to get out after taking the money.

A short distance away, the men abandoned the car at a Firestone-owned dump, and forced the dump attendant, 81-year-old James Parham, to turn over the keys of a panel truck.

The robbery took place at Firestone's incinerator plant. The money was a payroll for employes of the plant.

A company official confirmed the amount stolen and said the victims described the robbery as a "very dignified" operation.

A police dragnet was set up immediately. Taxicabs joined the search, their drivers instructed to radio police if they sighted the stolen truck.

Hunger Drives Jap War Straggler Out of Hiding

GUAM (AP)—A housewife told police an armed Japanese straggler, bearded and naked, darted from the jungle today and snatched some fried banana cakes from her house.

The director of public safety, Theodore D. Brown, of Eugene, Ore., formed a special detail of veteran hunters from the Guam police to search for the Japanese.

Mrs. Josefina Martinez, who was alone when the Japanese appeared, said he wore only a rope around his waist. From it dangled a saber. He also carried an odd-looking pistol.

Emergency Bill Up

Assembly Debating Pay Hike for County Officials

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The question of pay raises for almost all elected county officials may be decided today on the floor of the Ohio House.

The issue appears to hinge on whether the House can muster a two-thirds favorable vote to pass a Senate-approved emergency bill to raise the minimum and maximum salaries of county auditors.

Unless the bill carries as an emergency, there might as well be no bill at all. That is because county auditors take office next Monday and unless the raise is available to them then, it won't be available for another four years. The State Constitution bars officials from receiving pay increases after their terms have begun.

Others Hinge on Auditor

If the county auditors don't get a pay raise, there likely will be none for other county officials like judges, treasurers, sheriffs, recorders and commissioners. Bills to increase salaries for all those officials are among the 1,339 measures in the legislative hopper.

The Statehouse was a beehive yesterday as literally hundreds of interested citizens jammed hearing rooms to make their influence felt on a dozen bills now under study. They saw and heard committees take these actions:

A House committee recommended for passage a previously stymied bill to require annual inspection of autos at a fee of $1.50 per vehicle.

A House committee hold three hearings in one day on a proposal to grant public utility status to cargo-hauling belt conveyors.

A House committee hold probably its last hearing before a final vote on a bill to make membership in a high school fraternity or sorority grounds for expulsion from school.

'Death Traps' Outlawed

A Senate committee hold a first hearing on a bill to clarify legal restrictions on savings societies in Cleveland, Marietta and Springfield, mutual groups which have been performing some banking functions.

A House committee hold a first hearing—at which no backers appeared—to set up daylight saving

Flood Damage Mounts in River Towns on Ohio

Red Cross Indicates 2,658 Families Flee Homes in Four States

CINCINNATI (AP)—Red Cross officials today said some 2,658 families in four states have suffered property damage by the flooding Ohio River. This includes Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and Indiana.

As damages mounted downstream, the Weather Bureau predicted the river should be back in its banks in the lower portion this weekend. Many of the areas hit generally suffer damages when the river overflows.

Crest Due in Cincinnati

Cincinnati braced for the flood crest today along with numerous small river towns in Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana. The crest has swept past Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Among the hardest hit river towns was Manchester, Ohio, where the state highway patrol said 225 families fled shore homes as the crest neared the town today.

Manchester is about 80 miles upstream from Cincinnati.

Sixty-four Manchester businesses suspended operations as the crest of the river traveled from Portsmouth toward Cincinnati.

No Rain Forecast

The Ohio highway patrol reported over 1,000 families and nearly 400 evacuated businesses from Pomeroy, Meigs County, down to Cincinnati and Hamilton County.

However, no rain which would swell the river further was in sight for today or tomorrow, the Weather Bureau reported.

Harlan Okayed By Judiciary Committee 10-4

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee today approved the nomination of Judge John Marshall Harlan for the Supreme Court.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill), emerging from a closed meeting of the committee, told newsmen that 10 senators voted for confirmation, 4 against and one voted present.

Harlan, the grandson of a Supreme Court justice, was nominated by President Eisenhower last November to fill a vacancy on the court left by the death last October of Justice Robert H. Jackson.

Dirksen said that he thought there would be "a bit of a floor fight" when the nomination is brought up in the Senate, in view of the four adverse votes in the committee.

Harlan now is a judge of the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. He was confirmed for that post, in New York, last year.

Another Eisenhower nomination, that of Theophile C. Kammholz, of Chicago, to be general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, was confirmed by the Senate yesterday. Only Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) was heard to say "no" on the voice vote.

Senate confirmation of a third was recommended. The Senate members of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee unanimously okayed the selection of Dr. John Von Neumann of Princeton, N. J. to membership on the Atomic Energy Commission.

Cooler Weather Forecast In Ohio's Northern Half

There was springlike weather in most parts of the country today except in the northeast and some northern border areas, where there was a trace of wintry weather.

In Ohio, the mercury was expected to reach into the 60s today with a low tonight in the 40s. The forecast for Thursday is fair and quite warm in the south and mostly cloudy with chance of rain and cooler in the north.

Party Attacks Nagy

Ouster of Premier Looms in Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Leaders of the Hungarian Communist party today accused Premier Imre Nagy of "rightist deviationism" and of supporting mistaken "rightist ideas" in speeches and articles.

(Western observers in Vienna said Nagy's dismissal from office appeared imminent. He had been his country's chief mouthpiece for Soviet ex-Premier Georgi Malenkov's policy of more consumer goods. His downfall had been expected since the Soviet Union and Hungary early this year returned to policies emphasizing heavy industrial production, which includes war materials.)

Press States Charges

A statement by the Hungarian Workers (Communist) party's Central Committee, published in all Budapest newspapers, accused Nagy of encouraging elements who tried to frustrate industrialization and deny the necessity of heavy industry development.

Only by development of heavy industry, it added, could there be a development of light industry and agriculture.

The statement said the criticism of Nagy was voiced at a session of the Central Committee held March 2-4. The chief speaker at the meeting was the party's first secretary Matyas Rakosi.

The statement emphasized that party policies laid down in June 1953, which led to the proclamation of the "new course" espoused by Nagy's government were correct. But the committee said there had been mistakes and deficiencies in carrying them out.

Hits Anti-Marxist Policy

Describing those responsible for the "rightist mistakes" as "Opportunists and anti-Marxists," the statement went on:

"Nagy became the chief preacher of these anti-Marxist ideas.

"The basic feature of Imre Nagy's rightist line appeared in the negation and underestimation of the party's achievements and in the hushing up of these results.

"Imre Nagy directly encouraged elements within the party and petty bourgeois elements outside the party to increase their undermining activities against the party's reputation.

"If the policy of these rightist deviationists triumphed, this coun-

Airliner Crash In Mexico Kills All 26 Aboard

Plane Hits Mountain, Bursts Into Flames And Starts Forest Fire

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Rescue workers battled a raging forest fire today in an effort to reach the bodies of 26 persons killed in Mexico's worst plane crash. The dead included four Californians.

The airliner, a two-engine DC3 of the Compania Mexicana de Aviacion (CMA), crashed into a mountain yesterday shortly after taking off from Puerto Vallarto, on the Pacific coast. It burst into flames, touching off the forest fire.

No Survivors

A rancher who reached the scene before the surrounding trees caught fire said there were no survivors among the 22 passengers and three crewmen. The passengers included two children.

The U.S. citizens aboard were identified as:

Edd Johnson, a staff member of the San Francisco Chronicle who had been on leave at Puerto Villarto. He formerly was an editor of the New Republic magazine and a foreign correspondent for a Chicago newspaper.

Dr. Clifford Hays, 32, a dentist, Arcadia, Calif.

Dr. Russell Ingle Jr., 31, a dentist, Montebello, Calif.

R. S. Hall, 47, a grocer, Whittier, Calif.

On Fishing Trip

In Whittier, a friend of Mrs. Hall said the grocer left there last Friday with the two dentists for a fishing trip in Mexico. She said they were expected home next Tuesday.

The plane was en route from

GOP Senators Attack New Tax Cut Suggestion

$10 Reduction Linked With Revenue Changes Draws Fire in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats were reported tinkering today with a compromise proposal to combine a $10-a-person income tax cut with other revenue law changes. But Senate Republicans remained set against any tax reductions now.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, called an afternoon news conference to disclose details of a minority report by six Senate Finance Committee Democrats who supported a House-approved $20-a-person tax reduction rejected by that committee last week.

From other quarters it was learned the six—including Johnson—have been discussing a compromise proposal to lump a $10 cut with repeal of both the dividend income credit and accelerated depreciation allowance voted by Congress last year.

However, Chairman Bridges (R-NH) said a canvass by the GOP Policy Committee indicated his party's senators were "practically unanimous" against the $20 proposal or any compromise for it. So far, Sen. Langer of North Dakota has been the only Republican to come out for the Democratic plan.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va) of the Finance Committee said he is going down the line against any tax reduction. He said he foresaw no successful compromise proposal.

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP leader, predicted the Senate will reject all compromise proposals "by a substantial vote."

Warns of Asia Fall in Failure To Use Force

Couples Call for Firm Western Stand With Admonition to Chou

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles' trip to the Far East apparently convinced him the United States and Communist China are heading toward a military showdown — probably over Formosa.

In a nationwide broadcast last night, Dulles issued two solemn warnings:

1. To the Chinese Reds he said U.S. sea and air forces in the area are "now equipped with new and powerful weapons of precision, which can utterly destroy military targets without endangering unrelated civilian centers."

2. To the American people he said the whole defense system for free Asia will fail unless they are willing to use their "greater force" in response to a military challenge from Communist China.

Tone Grim

Dulles' tone was grim although he reported progress on strengthening the Southeast Asian alliance, whose conference at Bangkok, Thailand, took him abroad. He returned Sunday after stops at other capitals, including that of Nationalist China on Formosa.

Dulles promised continued arms aid for Far Eastern countries. Without giving details, he projected U.S. cooperation toward improving economic conditions. He termed subversion the greatest danger in Southeast Asia, but voiced belief the threat would diminish when such countries as Viet Nam understand that their allies "have the power, and the will, to strike down an open armed aggressor."

One theme dominated Dulles' talk. It was that the free, friendly peoples of Asia are mainly dependent for their security on "mobile Allied power" spearheaded by U.S. sea and air power. And he said if they think that the United States will not fight if trouble comes then they will lose confidence and free Asia will fall apart.

Formosa Possible Test

Dulles did not say specifically that the showdown which he foresees will come over Formosa. But in several key sentences he stated his view this way:

"We hope that the present military activities of the Chinese Communists are not in fact the first stage of an attack against Formosa and the Pescadores. We hope that a cease-fire may be attainable. We know that friendly nations, on their own responsibility, are seeking to find substance for those hopes. Also the United States

Reds Reported Preparing for Matsus Attack

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—An official Nationalist Chinese news agency said today the Chinese Reds were preparing for the arrival of military reinforcements at Foochow, capital of Fukien province, which would be used against the nearby Matsu Islands.

The Tatao News Agency, operated by the Interior Ministry, said the Reds were requisitioning Foochow homes, schools and other buildings for billets.

The agency, which claims underground contacts on the mainland, said the Reds were organizing a "popngo" welcome for the troops. The Communist youth corps was reported collecting funds to buy "comforts" for the troops.

Tatao gave no estimate of the number of reinforcements.

Last night the Reds on Amoy Island fired 12 shells at Tatan, an island 2½ miles south. From Tatan the Nationalists have been interdicting shipping to Amoy. The Nationalists said the shelling was "without effect."

Both American and Nationalist sources said they had nothing to confirm a local newspaper report deputy commanders of Chiang Kai-shek's navy and air force if a joint that Americans would be appointed command is set up.

DULLES REPORTS ON ASIAN TALKS. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles goes over his nationwide address with President Eisenhower at the White House, giving a new appraisal of the military and political situation in the Far East. Dulles outlined the progress made at the Southeast Asia defense conference which he attended in Bangkok.

Senators Hear Broker

Stocks Declared Sound Despite $3 Billion Break

WASHINGTON (AP)—A leading Wall Street broker voiced confidence in the health of the stock market today in the wake of a three-billion-dollar tumble in stock prices.

Winthrop H. Smith, managing partner of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, attributed the 18-month-old market boom mainly to public confidence in America's future.

He told the Senate Banking Committee, "There appears to be a greater feeling of confidence at this time than there has been for a long time."

Smith's testimony was prepared before yesterday's selling waves on the New York Stock Exchange—one of the year's worst breaks. But there was no indication after the break that Smith planned to alter his statement.

Some analysts linked the market's jitters with yesterday's testimony by Harvard economist John K. Galbraith in the committee's "friendly study" of the stock market and the stock price boom. Galbraith urged "strongest precautionary measures" to guard against the boom's getting out of hand and winding up in a collapse.

Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark) said he doubted if the market break had any connection with Galbraith's testimony or with the Banking Committee's inquiry. But he did comment that yesterday's market performance only "demonstrated the wisdom" of Galbraith's words of caution.

Smith, who heads the world's largest brokerage firm, did not list speculation among the factors to which he attributed the stock price boom that started in September 1953. He described the price rise as a natural and "not too surprising" result of a "reawakening of confidence" by investors.

Green Coupe, Tin Snips Seen Slaying Clues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police today attempted to trace an old green coupe reported cruising near the gas station shortly before attendant Don Keyes was slain yesterday.

Keyes, 24, was the lone night attendant. He was killed by the blast of a shotgun in what police said was a small-change robbery at the Checker Oil Station.

An Ohio State University student and the father of two children, Keyes was working his way through school. His body, its head shattered by the blast, was found on a rear room floor near opened school books.

Police also were checking a pair of tin snips found in a nearby field as the probable object used to pry open a cash drawer at the station.

Police said Thomas Harold Herren, 38, of Columbus told them he

Donors Needed For Next Visit Of Bloodmobile

Volunteer donors are needed for the March visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit here next Wednesday and Thursday.

On Wednesday, March 16, the unit will be at the recreation room of the First Presbyterian Church from 11:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. and on Thursday, March 17, the center will be set up at the Marion Engineer Depot. Hours on the second day are 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Last year 1,373 pints of blood were provided for patients at the Marion City Hospital without charge, records show. This, it is pointed out, is a little more than 114 pints a month. The amount does not include blood provided for Marion County residents who were patients in other cities.

Persons in good health and with a few minutes to spare, are asked to call the Red Cross Chapter office, 2-1653, and make an appointment to contribute.

Consolidation Discussed

County School Leaders Hear Survey Explained

Representatives of six rural Marion County schools heard an explanation of the Ohio School Survey Committee report on a "local level" last night at Meeker School.

The meeting, a special session called by the president of the Meeker Board of Education, Richard Kennedy, was attended by school board members or superintendents of LaRue, Morral, Green Camp, New Bloomington, Pleasant and Meeker, and Marion County Superintendent of Schools D. T. Mills.

Briefly outlining key points of the survey of Ohio's schools for the group was G. A. Rich, a supervisor in the department of elementary and secondary education.

Following the discussion with Rich on the highlights of the school survey report, school board members and the county superintendent went behind closed doors for a secret session. No report on this meeting was available.

The speaker was introduced by Mills, following brief remarks by the Meeker school board president.

In support of the survey committee's recommendation that small high schools be consolidated into larger schools, Rich pointed out that the consolidation trend is on throughout the state.

Small high schools have been merging into larger administration units and the number of county

Plan Drastic Measures

Marion Police Join Drive To Cut Pedestrian Deaths

Marion's participation in a statewide drive to reduce the number of pedestrian deaths in traffic was announced today by Police Chief Thomas B. Coon.

"Every city and county is being asked to work together in an intensive campaign to solve one of the most serious traffic problems," U. C. Felty, director of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, said.

Chief Coon said that although local officials have worked to reduce such accidents, "we will redouble our efforts as part of the statewide drive."

Noting that pedestrians are controlled by traffic laws, he warned that violators will be arrested the same as motorists.

This means that pedestrians crossing the street against the light, jay-walking or violating any other traffic law applying to them may be issued a ticket or arrested.

"We are not trying to be tough with pedestrians, but drastic measures are needed to help reduce the death toll," Coon said.

Coon added that while the emphasis is on obeyance of safe walking rules, the motorists are not being overlooked. Those who do not consider the rights of pedestrains and thus endanger their lives will be subject to arrest also, he said.

The seriousness of the problem is worse in Marion than in the rest of the state. Throughout the

Bank Held Up At Waynesville

Pair Takes $10,000 In Noon-Hour Robbery

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A calm man in his 40s, who acted as if he robbed banks before, and a young nervous man apparently new at the trade robbed the Waynesville National Bank of $10,000 yesterday.

They entered the Warren County institution, 10 miles northeast of Lebanon, during the noon hour. They forced four employes and two customers to lie down.

The men scooped up the cash and sped northward in their getaway car. The witnesses said the elder man pulled the job with calmness. The younger bandit was nervous.

Bank President Ross Hartsock estimated the loss at $10,000. The bank also was robbed 21 years ago.

GOP Women Study Political Influence

The theme of the program at a meeting of the Marion County Republican Women's Club Tuesday emphasized the effectiveness and influence of Republican women in politics. The group met at 12 o'clock in the community rooms of the West Town Branch Bank. Preceding the program there was a pot luck luncheon and business session. Serving as a committee were Mrs. Helena Young, Mrs. Howard McCurdy and Mrs. Lester Stewart.

Mrs. Homer Hufford gave a report of a rummage sale sponsored by the group and a letter of appreciation for a contribution made to the Robert A. Taft memorial fund was read. Mrs. John Hall, president, presided and opened the meeting with prayer and led the group in the salute to the flag. Letters and articles were read giving detailed instruction on how to reach the quota of membership for the county.

Mrs. Orla Barks reviewed the activities of Mrs. George Bender, and Mrs. Jacob Bolinger gave a report of Mrs. Katherine Kennedy Brown's attendance at a breakfast given by President Eisenhower. Mrs. Milton Giles discussed the importance of precinct organization and other articles were given by Mrs. Hufford, Mrs. Young and Mrs. Abe Schoen. It was reported that Mrs. Raymond Furniss, immediate past president, is a patient in University Hospital, Columbus.

The next meeting will be April 12 in the bank's community rooms. There will be a luncheon in charge of Mrs. Robert Stief and her committee.

Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name InfraRUB®. The price of InfraRUB is only 98¢ for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded if full.

Ohio House Debate Continues

Riverlake Backers, Rail Experts Clash at Hearing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Railroad opponents to public utility status for cargo-hauling belt conveyors wheeled up some of their big guns esterday in marathon hearings before the Ohio House Commerce and Transportation Committee

Earl C (Pop) Shively, general counsel for Ohio railroads was the principal witness as the committee held morning, afternoon and night hearings in an effort to get a quick decision on the question

Contrary to previous plans, the committee will hold only one—rather than three—hearings today That one may be the last

Shively repeatedly told the committee a legislative grant of eminent domain to enable belt conveyors to seize rights of way—after paying for them—would be 'unfair" competition for railroads That, he said, would be because belt lines—sometimes called 'rubber railroads'—would haul only the commodities they choose while railroads are required to haul anything offered them

Jousts with Backers

But most of the day he spent matching wits with backers of belt conveyors—reviewing testimony of others The backers were exploring for cracks in the armor of railroad opposition, Shively did the parrying

Marathon though it was, it was by far the liveliest of the lengthy hearings

It was opened by Frank Uible, a former speaker of the Ohio House But he quickly gave way to Shively. Both are attorneys representing Ohio railroads

Some points salvaged from yesterday's stream of words

After admitting promised lower freight rates of a Cleveland-to-East Liverpool belt line would "help the industrial Youngstown area" Shively was asked if that would not, also, help Ohio

Replied Shively 'It might to some degree but it also would disturb the delicate balance of freight rates which now favor Ohio coal Youngstown must face the fact that it cannot ever compete on an equal basis with a city like Chicago Chicago is a natural port which can ship or receive freight by either the St Lawrence Seaway or the Mississippi River There is no artificial means in the world, including the proposed belt conveyor which is going to put Youngstown on an equal footing with Chicago"

PUCO Control Questioned

In reply to a question whether the state utilities commission can enforce the "conditions" provided by the bill to give belt conveyors the right of eminent domain, Shively declared

'We feel the belt conveyor would be interstate commerce and its business would be subject to the federal Interstate Commerce Commission There is no way the public Utilities Commission of Ohio could enforce any conditions after the belt conveyor people have exercised their right to appropriate property"

As the hearings ground toward a close, there appeared to be a feeling among some committee members the measure should come to a floor vote in the House

In two previous bids for public utility status, the Riverlake Belt Conveyor Lines, Inc, has been stymied in Senate committees and neither House or the Legislature has had a chance to vote on its proposal

Auto Accidents In City Decline

February Police Totals Far Below Toll of '54

Traffic accidents in Marion were on the decline during February, according to a monthly summary issued today by the police department

Total of accidents in the city last month was 37 in which only five persons were hurt and one were killed. During the same month last year there were 54 collisions in which two persons were killed and four injured.

This same trend of fewer accidents has been reflected throughout the first two months of this year. Until March 1, there were 100 traffic accidents in the city in which 16 persons were hurt During the same period in 1954, there were 151 collisions which brought death to three persons and injury to 20.

The breakdown of accidents during February was as follows: five pedestrians hurt in five collisions of automobiles and pedestrians; five persons hurt in 74 collisions of 2 or more motor vehicles; one bicyclist hurt in one collision of a bike and a car; and one person hurt in six collisions of motor vehicles with fixed objects.

The Postal Tug of War

The administration has resumed its efforts to make the Post Office more nearly self-supporting and to improve postal service. For the second straight year, President Eisenhower has asked for increases in postage rates as well as postal employes' wages.

Congress last summer voted a five per cent pay boost for postal workers but refused to approve increases in mail rate, so the President vetoed the bill. There are signs Congress may be inclined to do the very same thing again this year.

No hearings have yet been held on the bill to increase postage rates but the House Post Office Committee voted an average 7½ per cent increase in pay for a half million postal employes, with a minimum hike of 6 per cent, and the Senate committee has agreed to report a similar bill with perhaps an even larger increase.

It is quite obvious that Congress finds it much easier to recognize the needs of postal workers than the efficacy of bringing the income and outgo of the Post Office Department into closer balance.

Postal workers, to be sure, are deserving of more money, but there is slight justification for running the postal deficit into higher figures to achieve it. The answer is a simple one. Rates across the board should be increased not only to compensate for higher wages but to cut further into the deficit, which in 1954 was almost 400 million dollars.

The Post Office Department, fundamentally, is a public utility, and its costs should be met by its users and not from general tax revenues.

Each class of mail is designed to perform a service for those who find it advantageous to use it, and it is the administration's view that the user generally should pay enough postage to cover the costs in each such category.

The Congress historically has gone along with the position that the post office is essentially a public service and that postage rates should reflect the contribution of each class of mail to the general welfare. Advocates of this concept assert that, inasmuch as the postal service is carried on in the public interest, a part of its costs may legitimately be charged to the general taxpayer.

The administration may have to compromise with this concept but it is pretty generally agreed that unless Congress comes up with some form of rate relief, any attempt to increase postal wages will be strongly resisted.

The two will be tied that closely together as long as red is the predominant color on the balance sheet.

We Pay Well for It

A suggestion that, for sheer brass and boldness, is in a class by itself, is one made the other day to Vice President Richard Nixon by Latin American nations.

The Latins, it seems, would like to have United States housewives accept a voluntary increase in coffee prices to help out South American coffee producers.

Without ever referring to the suggestion, the Vice President made it clear that he felt solution of the basic coffee problem was one wholly for the producers.

What the Latin American producers seem to forget is that they already are blessed with certain advantages denied to other products originating abroad — namely, that there is no tariff on coffee.

As Nixon pointed out, what the coffee producers need is a well - planned program to control the flow of their product into the market and a better advertising campaign to increase coffee consumption.

The American coffee consumer has done a pretty good job of subsidizing the producer the way it is.

He is not only the biggest coffee drinker in the world but is paying a handsome price for the privilege.

Do-It-Yourself Shelter

While the subject of home-made atomic bomb shelters may be one of the most serious matters to come up in a long time, it does not seem necessary to avoid all levity in dealing with it. Most tasks are made lighter if you whistle while you work.

There is no reason why individual tastes and family circumstances should not influence such a project so long as basic recommended principles are followed.

Civil defense officials have suggested construction of shelters by the do-it-yourself method. And the government has a manual listed as "TM 5-5" with details on how to proceed.

The plans naturally will have to be adapted to the physical structure of a basement if that is the site chosen and there doesn't seem to be any logical reason why the decor could not be original.

For families with children such a structure would be ideal for daily use as a rumpus room, provided only that it did not become too cluttered with troublesome objects.

One suggested shelter is a wooden or concrete-reinforced lean-to by a wall of the basement. But the best protection is said to be a concrete tunnel exit from the basement.

It would be interesting to see if walls intended to withstand atomic explosions could hold up under the hammering of young exhuberant bodies.

Pay Raise Complications

By David Lawrence

Congressmen Impose Handicap on Themselves

When Congress raised the pay of its members, it imposed on them a handicap little realized by the public and perhaps by the senators and representatives themselves.

Under the Constitution no member of either house can be appointed to any office in the other branches of the government if the compensation or allowances for those offices have been increased during their terms. Hence, there can be no additions to the federal judiciary from Congress until the current terms of members of both houses expire.

Thus, members of the House will not become eligible for appointment again to the federal bench until after Jan. 3, 1957, and senators who were elected for six-year terms last fall will not become eligible for appointment as federal judges until after Jan. 3, 1961.

There are a lot of vacancies on the federal bench now, and some new justiceships that have been created which are unfilled. It has been customary in the past to fill some of these from among members of Congress.

In some instances members of Congress have been appointed to the Supreme Court of the United States while still serving the terms for which they were elected. Notable examples were Sen. Hugo Black, who was nominated in 1937 by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Sen. Byrnes of South Carolina. Not so many years ago Fred Vinson, who later became chief justice, was appointed by FDR to the circuit court of appeals while serving as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

THE RAISE IN PAY is a barrier not only to the judiciary but to some other offices. The Constitution says that no member of the House or Senate can be appointed to any government post that has been created during the term in which the member is still serving. If any ambassadorships or positions on any newly created governmental commissions are available, members of Congress cannot be appointed to them while serving out their present terms.

The exact language of the Constitution on this point is as follows:

"No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time."

Two instances occurred in past history in which members of Congress found themselves in conflict with that provision. One was in 1889, when a senator was appointed minister to Mexico during his term, during which Congress had increased the salary for that office. The attorney general ruled him ineligible.

The other case occurred in 1909 when President Taft appointed Sen. Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania, to be secretary of state while Knox was still in Congress. For many weeks nobody raised the point. Then the late Oswald F. Schuette, Washington correspondent of a Chicago newspaper, drew attention to the conflict with the Constitution.

CONGRESS SAVED the day by passing a law reducing the salary of the secretary of state to what it was before Knox was designated.

There has always been a question as to whether the spirit of the Constitution was complied with in that instance.

"One may conceive of great abuses which might arise did this prohibition not exist," writes Thomas J. Norton in his book on the Constitution. "Of course, after the term of a senator or representative has expired, he may accept the office created during his term or the office the emoluments of which were increased while he was in Congress."

All this is related to the determination of the founding fathers to keep the legislative and executive branches of the government separate. Thus, the Constitution provides further that "no person holding any office under the United States, shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office."

IT CANNOT BE said that even these constitutional provisions have prevented attempts by presidents to dominate Congress through the dangling of prospective appointments before members in order to win or hold their support.

Again and again in the cloakrooms of Congress, whispers have been heard that so and so was going along with the administration because he was expecting sooner or later to be appointed to a lifetime judgeship on the federal bench.

This has been rumored under both Democratic and Republican administrations

Certainly the recent pay raise fortuitously eliminates that form of pressure for a while anyway.

Fortresses of Faith

By OMER ANDERSON

MUNICH

At Traunreut, Bavaria, 1,300 Catholic refugees from East Germany, who had been worshipping in an old barracks, today have a new stone church.

In the Britz district of West Berlin, near Tempelhof Airport on the fringe of the Soviet zone, a similar new church accommodating 320 worshippers has been built for a Protestant congregation without a place to worship since the war.

Up and down the Iron Curtain, from Hamburg to the Austrian border, religious structures financed by the American Wooden Church Crusade are being constructed.

The crusade is collecting money in the United States to build 49 modest churches, none to cost more than $25,000. For the most part the churches, representing the 48 states and the District of Columbia, are located in border areas near the Iron Curtain.

Nonsectarian, the crusade was originated and is headed in Germany by Baron Henning von Royk-Lewinski, a German Lutheran lay leader. He is supported by Catholics, Jews and Protestants alike, in the most spectacular interfaith endeavor undertaken in Germany since the war.

The crusade is building Protestant churches, Catholic churches and synagogues. As Baron Royk-Lewinski explains the campaign:

"The people of Germany are targets of an unceasing propaganda torrent. Since the end of World War II the Communists have concentrated a barrage of 'hate America' slogans, stories and accusations, hoping to drive a wedge between Germany and the Western peoples. . . .

"The Communists revile America because they fear the principles of our Western society. The answer lies not merely in exposing their lies. German youth will not succumb to godlessness if they are assisted in their own efforts to strengthen their own faith . . . spiritually and symbolically, each church will carry its message of faith and friendship from the people of America to the people of Germany and will serve to strengthen faith in God."

Church sites are chosen in consultation with German church authorities, who are giving land needed by the poor congregations receiving Wooden Church Crusade help.

At the request of Bishop Otto Dibelius, the first two Protestant churches were built in West Berlin — a good example of factors determining site selection. One of the West Berlin churches is in the Heiligensee (Holy Lake) neighborhood, just a few hundred yards from the Russian zone.

Heiligensee is a densely populated working-class section left without churches by wartime bombing. The same situation prevailed in Britz, where the first Protestant church was completed.

The crusade is putting up churches for existing congregations of all faiths, where they are most needed in the Iron Curtain border areas, as swiftly as funds are raised in the U.S.

Although the Germans are pushing reconstruction of the war-damaged cathedrals and churches of greatest note in major cities, these represent only a fraction of the houses of worship pounded into rubble by bombs and artillery. It is estimated that nearly 45 per cent of Germany's churches were demolished or damaged beyond usefulness.

Nearly 10 years after the war West Germany still suffers shocking shortage of buildings in which to pray. Two leading churchmen, Protestant Bishop Dibelius and Catholic Bishop Wilhelm Weskamm report that several hundred congregations in their dioceses are using make-shift schoolrooms town halls, barracks and even beer gardens for religious services and Sunday school instruction.

Originator of the idea for the crusade, Baron Von Royk-Lewinski, a nephew of Von Hindenburg and a prewar diplomat, served during the war as a naval officer in North Africa and Italy.

The baron considered it evident that although West Germany was receiving great sums of U.S. economic aid, this aid was often meaningless or unknown to individuals and families doing what they could to find new lives amid the ruins of defeat. Meanwhile Communist propagandists were telling a new generation that the U.S. was helping solely for selfish military and economic advantage.

The baron's idea: Why not encourage American friends to show Germans how common devotion to spiritual traditions identified them in the same enduring heritage? The way in which this could be done best was through building small churches for congregations which need them most.

The Wooden Church Crusade got its name from temporary chapels furnished by the Army. Since wood is scarce in Germany, experience actually showed it more practical — and cheaper — to build the churches of stone.

Young Men Go West

Dulles Welded Allies on Manila Pact

By James E. Roper

It is becoming increasingly clear that Secretary Dulles scored a resounding diplomatic victory at the Manila Treaty Conference.

Secretary Dulles had many things on the agenda of his whirlwind Asian tour. He had his ups and downs. There may be some question, for instance, as to how successful he was in his effort to sell Chiang Kai-shek on the unwillingness of the United States to commit itself to the defense of the offshore Nationalist islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

But Secretary Dulles carried the day. He was the man with the power, and power prevailed.

The representatives of the other Manila - pact powers—Thailand, Pakistan, the Philippines, France, Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand—may not have liked all that Dulles had to sell. But they had to lump it.

The thesis which Dulles hammered home was a simple one, yet bold:

There will be general peace in the Far East—or general war. There will not be any "Little wars."

IN DIPLOMATIC TERMS, both at Bangkok and on his subsequent tour, the secretary told the little nations of Asia to think big. Don't think just of yourself, he kept saying, but think of the total threat that Communist China poses.

Everywhere he went, Dulles urged non-treaty nations to cooperate with the Manila pact powers. Above all, he made clear that he wanted Nationalist China and South Korea, as well as the Manila powers, to leap upon Communist China if the Reds should commit open aggression.

This was tough talk involving half the world. Not for years had the U.S. faced its allies with so many differences, yet bulled its way to agreements which Washington feels are in the best interests of the United States and the rest of the free world.

Differences arose on each of three main problems at the Bangkok conference:

1. Military — Asiatic countries wanted the United States to station forces in Asia so the American units would be sure to be involved in any fighting that might develop. Dulles balked at this. He said, however, the U.S. would keep its armed forces deployed for quick use in any attacked area. He made the conference agree.

2. Political — Some countries wanted all pact powers to contribute to a single pool of intelligence about Red tactics in Southeast Asia. Dulles insisted that, from a security standpoint, it would be safer to exchange such information between individual countries rather than through a pool. He made the conference agree.

3. Economic — Asiatic countries wanted more U.S. economic aid. They wanted it handled through the Manila pact organization. Dulles indicated that the United States would give major new economic aid only when military requirements made this necessary. He insisted that the U.S. maintain the right to dole it out on a country-by-country basis. And he made the conference agree to that, too.

IT WAS CLEAR that although the Manila pact was Dulles' brainchild, he really was thinking in far wider terms. The secretary thinks nobody left the conference angry—at least, no more unhappy than when he did a spectacular selling job on the smaller countries, and at least held in check the bigger ones—Great Britain and France.

The complete transcribed text of the conference meetings, now available, shows that Secretary Dulles sounded this warning:

The greatest deterrent to open aggression in the Southeast Asia area is the fact that if open aggression occurred here, it would probably mean the beginning of a war which the Communist Chinese could not confine to the Southeast Asia area, but it would have to be prepared to defend itself on three fronts—north, central and southern.

In other words, Dulels would expect a Chinese Communist aggression on southeast to touch off a general war in the Pacific. Under this thesis, the troops of Chiang Kai-shek and South Korean President Syngman Rhee probably would be involved. These would be in addition to the forces of the Manila pact countries.

Secretary Dulles spoke bluntly about the Asian move for stationing American troops in this area. The American answer was no." In conclusion he said:

"Let me say that no one around this table should feel any doubt whatever about the sound intentions of the United States. I read occasional observations which seem to throw doubt on our purposes—whether we are really serious about this treaty. . . We regard this treaty as constituting a clear and definite agreement on the part of the signatories, including the United States, to come to the aid of any member of the pact who under the terms of this treaty is subjected to aggression."

After Dulles spoke, the course of the conference was clear. The opposition folded.

TWO DAYS LATER, on Dulles' 67th birthday, the conference voted unanimously to give him what he wanted—three committees to carry out the plans for military, political and economic cooperation among the Manila pact powers.

Important indeed is the fact that the committees will work under the policy guidance that Dulles laid down. The military committee, American sources state, will do its strategic planning on the assumption that troops of Chiang and Rhee will be available to throw into a battle against any overt Chinese Communist aggression.

The military committee will count on certain forces from American units stationed in the Pacific. The Manila pact countries in the immediately threatened area also will have troops available.

United States aircraft and warships will continue to use their present bases. Before long they will start a series of visits in this area to "show the flag."

AS SOON AS Thailand's airports are enlarged to care for jet aircraft, you can expect American jet squadrons to make visits of several days' duration. U.S. warships will call at friendly ports. Later, the warships will hold joint exercises with friendly naval craft in the area.

Dulles, meanwhile, will press his diplomatic campaign to build an arc around Communist China. He wants to see Formosa, Japan and South Korea linked formally with the Manila pact.

The secretary's goal—and it is one that would take years to fulfill—is to widen the Manila pact so that more and more countries would be legally committed to war against China should the Reds try to expand by force.

Dulles believes that such an arrangement would increase the chances that the Reds would be afraid to move The Far East thus could have general peace. If the Reds struck anyway, then general war would ensue.

Talk About 'Spectaculars!'

The warning from a party national chairman that the future candidate for public office must have TV appeal continues to interest us. But the mere matter of show biz personality is not enough, we think. The "act" must be good. The old-time campaign routines are as dead as vaudeville.

The successful candidate of tomorrow may need an airwave theme song and background music. Certainly clever lines will be essential and what entertainment circles call "business."

Since a political party sponsors a candidate, it should be entitled to a commercial and will have to work out a suitable technique, calling for a message that will sell the candidate just as other sponsors sell beer, soap, salad oils and detergents. Something like: "Yes, you will feel healthier and happier with a four-way candidate. Don't take any old politican when you feel low and depressed; demand Sen. Oswald Pepperpott and get relief in 24 hours or your money back."

Or perhaps: "Are you nervous and irascible? Do you suffer from jangled nerves and that old what's-the-use feeling? Then act now, before it is too late and take the large-sized economy aspirant to public office, etc."

We think, too, that a candidate will have to give a TV touch to his speeches, coming on breezily with "Thank you, thank you, thank you very much for this wonderful reception. Boy, you're a good group tonight.

"I had intended to open this program with a discussion of grave issue before our nation but I know this wonderful audience is in the mood for something more entertaining and I shall open the show with a musical number written by me in co-operation with the party chairman. I have called it 'Victory, I Love You,' and hope you'll like it.

"Following this number you will see and hear famous guest stars, making their debut in a political TV production. And away we go!"

A smart candidate might even work in a capsule drama or a serial comedy sketch, using a gal partner.

If we were running for president we would squeeze in a quiz and a jackpot. Noting, however, the current disconcerting trend on TV to interrupt a serious story with an abrupt commercial, we fear awful results in a candidate's speeches to the electorate. On TV the other night we saw a drama in which a heroine's scream, a villian's, "I've got you covered" and the hero's "Drop that gun!" funneled — presto! —into the words, "If you want fast relief go to the nearest drugstore now!"

We shivver at a favorite son's discourse coming out like this: "Fellow citizens, what do you ask of a candidate for this high office?. . .The cheese that leads all competitiors and is especially good for picnic sandwiches!. . .Should I be elected, what will you expect of me? . . . Yes, you expect the bread that outsells all other brands and bears the blue and gold label . . . My friends in this troubled year of crisis I pledge myself to work for a balanced budget . . .this amazing scientific toothpaste that eliminates bad breath. . .lower taxes for the masses . . .with the indorsement of seven out of ten dentists. . .and, last but not least, disarmament, world peace and total employment. . .Get them by the case and save money!"

Princess Margaret has ended her long tour in the West Indies and can now relax and get a much needed vacation from a vacation. . .

Robert T. Stevens will get the Montclair Yale Bowl award "for a man who has risen to the top in his line of endeavor in the past year." . . .(The Montclair boys hold that the score was Stevens 67; McCarthy, 5, but we thought the Army secretary fumbled repeatedly and never got a pass away.)

Everybody is asking whether Ike will run again. . .We think it all depends on what shape the fairways and greens are in.

The state of the planet reminds us of Ed Wynn's old gag "The world is going to the dogs, but the dogs won't take it."

Transportation Business Gains In Ohio Valley

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Valley Transportation Advisory Board reported at its quarterly meeting here today present upswing in business level for the Ohio Valley region, and the nation as a whole, "shows promise of continuing through 1956."

William E. Callahan of Washington, D. C., manager of the Open Car section of the car service division of the Assn. of American Railroads, noted shipments thus far in 1955 of coal and steel have been "well above those of a year ago." Coal and steel are the major freight tonnage commodities in the Ohio Valley region.

Callahan said total carloadings for the board area have averged three per cent higher in the first nine weeks of 1955 than during the same period in 1954.

He said bituminous coal, which constitutes about 80 per cent of railroad carloadings in the five-state Ohio Valley board territory, is running about 11 per cent above a year ago.

In his report, Callahan said daily national movement of steel during February averaged five per cent above the preceding month, and nearly 20 per cent more than a year ago, while steel ingot output in January was greater than in any month since October 1953. He said the industry now is operating at close to 90 per cent of capacity, and if present trends continue, this year's total steel output should far exceed that of 1954.

Army World Tour

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Should Mrs. Marie Ruckman coin the slogan "Marry an American Soldier and See the World" she should not be blamed. Mrs. Ruckman, an Italian, met her husband, Chief Warrant Officer Albert Ruckman, when he was stationed in Italy in 1944. They were married a year later.

In 1945 the couple came to America, where their first child was born. Shortly afterwards Ruckman was transferred to Germany where the couple became parents again.

Ruckman was ordered to Japan a short time ago. En route to join him, his wife stopped off in Pittsburgh, was naturalized as an American citizen and promptly left with her children to join her husband in the Far East.

Dog on the Carpet

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Wiggles, a nine-month-old mongrel dog, is building quite a display of rugs in the Joseph R. Mahoney home—and Mahoney doesn't know where they're coming from.

He says the dog—has dragged at least half a dozen scatter rugs, some evidently costly, onto the Mahoney premises in recent months.

Wiggles apparently works far afield as neighbors canvassed by the Mahoney children reported no losses.

Farmers Here To Get Social Security Books

Pamphlets Explaining Workings of New Law Sent Rural Residents

Social security for farm families, how it works and what farmers need to do about it are explained in a booklet just issued under the joint sponsorship of the Internal Revenue Service and the Social Security Administration. It is now being mailed to every rural and star route boxholder in Marion County, it was announced today by Paul D. Snider, district manager of the Marion Social security office.

This booklet is directed to the self-employed farmer, farm employers, and farm workers — approximately 5½ million in all — who were brought under social security on January 1. The purpose of the publication is to acquaint them with their benefits and tax obligations under the old-age and survivors insurance program. The mailing to rural boxholders in this area is part of a nationwide distribution to farm people. Those farmers who do not receive a copy through this mailing may obtain one from the District Director of Internal Revenue or from the Marion social security office at 127 W. Church St., Marion, Ohio.

The booklet stresses the need for self-employed farmers and hired farm workers to apply for a social security account card if they do not already have one; it also points out to the farm operator who employs workers that he should secure an agricultural employer's identification number. Examples are given of the monthly benefit payments for themselves and their families toward which farmers are now building under the old-age and survivors insurance program.

One section of the booklet is devoted to explanation of how and when a farm operator must report his own and his worker's farm earnings. The farm operator will report his earnings from self-employment on the same return on which he reports Federal income tax. He will pay self-employment tax for each taxable year ending after 1954 in which his net earnings from self-employment are $400 or more. If the farm operator reports his income tax on a calendar year basis, his first report and payment of self-employment tax will be made for the calendar year 1955, and will be due not later than April 15, 1956.

If a farm operator has a worker to whom he expects to pay at least $100 in cash wages during 1955, he is advised in the booklet to keep a record of the same, social security account number, and the amount of wages paid to the worker. The farm employer, moreover, is told that he should deduct two per cent social security tax from all cash wages paid to each such employee. As the employer, he must contribute an equal amount, report the wages, and pay the total social security tax of four per cent to the District Director of Internal Revenue.

The booklet includes an application form which employers of farm workers may send to the District Director of Internal Revenue in order to obtain further instructions, tax return forms, and an employer's identification number.

Demonstration of Fire Danger Set at Columbus

COLUMBUS — Visitors at the March 22-25 Ohio Farm and Home Week can see the "House of Hazards" in Campbell Hall at 2 p.m., Thursday, March 24.

"House of Hazards" is a small scale house used by Carl J. Shields of the Dayton Fire Prevention Bureau to show 22 ways fires start in homes. Fires in the "House of Hazards" show exact circumstances and appearance of fires occurring in the same manner in Ohio houses.

Lois Deneke, Ohio State University home management specialist, says this nationally recognized demonstration will help people, seeing it to eliminate hazards in their own homes. It also will suggest safety program ideas to adult and youth leaders.

Dairy Talk Set March 24 for Ohio Farmers

COLUMBUS—Dairy markets of the future dangle new products and new market outlets before Ohio dairymen's eyes.

Thursday of the March 22-25 Ohio Farm and Home Week, Ohio State University dairy technologists and marketing specialists will discuss new dairy products coming on the market and the probable market outlets for these products.

Some questions the specialists plan to answer are: What opportunity does the Indian ghee market offer Ohio dairymen? What effect will new substitute dairy products have on demand for milk from Ohio farms? What are the possibilities of processing whole milk so that it may be stored during periods of high production and marketed during slack production periods? How palatable are some of the new concentrated and dried milk products?

Economic formulas for pricing milk, milk supplies, cutting costs on dairy farms, and efficient distribution of milk from farm to consumer are other topics on the March 24th dairy marketing program. The program opens at 9 a.m., in the Agricultural Laboratories Building at Ohio State University.

Cattlemen Plan Tour of Farms

Four Places on Route For Spring Beef Visits

Final arrangements have been completed for the spring beef tour sponsored by the Marion County Beef Feeders Association. The tour will be held March 17, starting at 9:30 a.m.

First stop will be at the farm of C. W. Frederick at the junction of County Roads 162 and 94. Frederick has 47 head of Herefords which he bought last summer. He kept the animals on pasture until Nov. 1, feeding them an extra 360 pounds of grain per day.

After Nov. 1, he put them on corn cob meal plus a supplement and added stilbestrol beginning Nov. 15.

From the Frederick farm, the tour will move over to the place of L. L. Clymer on Route 23, north of Marion. There, those making the tour will see 62 head of cattle. Most of them are half Augus and half Brahman, while the rest are half Hereford and half Brahman.

All the animals are home raised. Besides the beef cattle, Clymer also has 142 head of last summer's calve and 42 heifers which will be two year old this summer.

Third stop on the tour will be at the farm of Hoover Brown in Wyandot County. This farm is located on the first road north of the Marion-Wyandot County Line. It can be spotted by a four-story building rising above the rest of the countryside.

Brown has 88 head of Herefords, purchased in Virginia last October. He also has been experimenting with the stilbestrol feeding program.

Final morning stop will be at the William Wilson farm on County Road 93, about two miles west of Brush Ridge. Wilson has 25 head of native Angus feeders bought last October.

Following the stop at Wilson's, the group will return to the Morral Fire House where they will be served lunch. An educational meeting will be held in the afternoon.

C. W. Hammans, extension economist from Ohio State University, will talk on beef marketing trends for the comnig year. Earl Klosterman, associate professor of animal science department at the Ohio State Experimental Station in Wooster, will discuss beef feeding especially in relation to the new stilbestrol program and other late advances.

A beef tour is planned by the Beef Feeders Association for every spring and fall. The first was held last year.

FIELD DAY SET

WOOSTER—A special lawn and turf grass field day at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station on Sept. 15 will replace the annual turf conference in Ohio this year.

The turf conference, usually held in March at Ohio State University, will not be held this year, officials said today. Full program details of the turf grass field day at the Ohio Station will be announced at a later date.

If you are an average Marion County farmer, you live on a farm of 143.8 acres, having a value of $21,525. You are 50.6 years of age and you sell $5,572.85 worth of farm products annually. The chances are three to one that your farm is located on a paved road about five miles from a convenient trading center.

These statistics were revealed this week by W. H. Andrews and L. H. Snow, rural sociologists at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station. They resulted from an analytical study by the station researchers on the comparative trends in population and agricultureal data in Ohio as based on the last federal census in 1950.

Following the trend of the times, 15 per cent of Marion County farmers work 10 days or more off the farm. This is an increase of 6.1 per cent over 1940. Twenty-four and one-tenth per cent of Marion County farm operators are tenants.

The census shows that 2.1 per cent of Marion farmers sold $10,000 or more in farm products. This is a ranking of 73rd in the state.

The Ohio station has previously reported that increased mechanization and other factors are causing an increase in acreage of the average farm. This amounted to 10 per cent between 1940 and 1950. A total of 8.6 per cent of the farms are under 10 acres; 17.6 per cent are under 30 acres; while 1.63 per cent are farms of 500 acres or more.

In the educational picture, Marion County farm folk 25 years of age or over have 9.4 median years of schooling completed (A median is that point at which there are the same number of persons classified both above and below a certain figure.) The median for the state in this classification is 8.8.

Marion County ranks first in the number of rural 16 and 17 year-old children enrolled in school with a percentage of 95.2. This is 15.8 per cent above the statewide average.

Nine and six-tenths per cent of rural Marion residents are 65 years of age compared with a state-wide average of nearly 10 per cent. Among persons 20 to 24 years old, there are 100 males per 100 females, while the state as a whole shows a ratio of 119 to 100.

The influence of industry during the decade between the two federal census periods is shown by an increase of 5.9 per cent in the number of Marion County residents working in none-farm occupations. Eighty-nine and one-tenth per cent are now employed in some type of industry other than agriculture. The percentage for the state is 92.

Adding CHARM to YOUR Home
DON'T USE PATTERN AGAINST PATTERN

Especially in a small room This tends to give the room a fussy, cluttered, restless feeling Remember, everything in your room should be in relation to everything else—as well as in relation to background It naturally follows that the charm and value of contrast is lost when too many patterns are used.

PLAY UP ONE PATTERN....
... against a background of interrelated colors for a dramatic, yet restful effect A large expanse of flowered—or figured—draperies are usually all the pattern that's needed to enliven a small room Relieve monotony of too many plain surfaces with texture interest of sofa and chair upholster fabrics Plain rugs are best in small rooms.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined today, but strong resistance to the fall developed in the early afternoon.

Yesterday's market broke sharply when heavy selling hit late in the session.

The decline today was concentrated in the first hour. Prices were down between 1 and 3 points at the outside.

Steels were mixed with Bethlehem under selling pressure and down between 2 and 3 points. A few steels managed to hold to small plus signs most of the time.

Aircrafts also were mixed. Railroads were higher with a long series of small gains shown. Motors did fairly well with General Motors higher.

Lower were oils, airlines, utilities, coppers and chemicals.

No Sign of Tomanek Injury Seen After Two-Inning Stint

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A rookie pitcher and a veteran infielder—each hoping he's finally overcome an old injury—were standouts in the Cleveland Indians' third intra-squad game yesterday.

Dick Tomanek, 24-year-old southpaw, popped something in his elbow in practice early last season, and returned to the Tribe's Indianapolis farm for an ordinary year. Yesterday he pitched two hitless innings in impressive style and said afterward his arm hadn't pained.

Eddie Joost, 38-year-old former Philadelphia Athletics manager who is trying out for a spot as utility infielder, has been plagued by a bad knee, a 1953 injury. The knee held up fine yesterday when Eddie made the fielding play of the day, a pivot-throw to first after scooping up a grounder behind second.

Joost also rapped a single in the six-inning game which the Red Kress team won from the Tony Cuccinellos 3-1.

"He looks awfully good to me," said Tribe Manager Al Lopez of Joost. "He moves as easily as he did four or five years ago. I certainly hope he keeps it up, because he can help us an awful lot."

Sharing the attention Lopez and some 3,000 fans gave Joost and Tomanek was Billy Harrell, a shortstop prospect from Indianapolis (.307 last season). Harrell clubbed a 360-foot homer off Dave Hoskins and looked good in the field.

"The boy has a real good chance," Lopez said. "We'll keep him around for a while even though he isn't on our roster."

Outfielder Dave Pope also hit a 360-foot homer, tagging Ray Narleski.

Only a Magistrate

BALTIMORE (AP)—Arrested for drunkenness, 73-year-old Cecil Bradley asked Magistrate Standley L. Richardson to give him a break and promised to "walk right on home."

"The only place you're walking from here is over to the jail," the magistrate said. "Thirty days."

Bradley muttered to himself as he left Central police Station. But when he reached the door his voice was loud and clear:

"You might be a judge, but you're only a magistrate to me."

Eaton Cagers, McMillen Tie For First Place

The Boilermakers Union of Eaton and McMillen Feed finished the second round of the YMCA Industrial Basketball League last night in a tie for first place.

With the championship at stake, the Union five romped over an undermanned McMillen team by a 66-44 score. The two teams are scheduled to meet again next Tuesday with the winner meeting Marion Power Shovel first round champions, f the Industrial League crown on Wednesday. The Industrial league honor team will play in the YMCA District tournament scheduled this year in Marion.

Playing in a close first quarter, Eaton moved to a 12-10 lead and then scared to a 34-23 half time lead which put the game on ice. The McMillen team playing with only five men tired in the third period as the Boilermakers continued to roll up a lead and coast in during the final eight minutes. Jack Daum paced the winners with 18 points while Dick Brooks followed with a total of 16. Bill Crabtree was high for McMillen with 18 while Ray Auld and Matthews came in with 10 points each.

Marion Power Shovel edged Pollak in an overtime contest 54-51 after the regulation game had ended at 47-47. Playing with four men in the late minutes of the third and final quarters and with only three in the overtime, the Shovel still managed to get in the necessary points while the rebounds on the defensive boards came its way. Lowell Hensel who poured in 19 for the winning Shovel crew added four points in the overtime while John Craycraft hit for three. Lon Earl was the high point man of the evening with a total of 26 points for Pollak.

Kelley Selected As Captain by Buckeye Squad

Don Kelley, former Cardington High School basketball star, last night was named captain of the 1955-56 Ohio State University cage squad.

The 6-3 performer wound up his second season as a varsity performer with Coach Floyd Stahl's Big Ten entry last week. He netted 199 points in conference games for an average of 14.2 markers a game. His election marked the official close of the Buckeye season and was made at a basketball banquet at the Student Union on the university campus.

John Miller, captain of the squad during the past season, described Kelley as "the most underrated player on the team." Kelley, who held down a forward spot on the team, along with Miller and Robin Freeman was one of the big guns in the OSU attack. He also saw some action at center.

Miller was named the most valuable player on the team in a vote by his team mates. The Bucks ended their season with a record of 10 wins and 12 setbacks.

Kelley, Stahl and the entire coaching staff presented an optomistic outlook toward next season. A promising crop of freshman cagers are expected to bolster the Buck cage fortunes.

Trades Rumored at Redleg Camp, Big Klu Finds Range

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Second baseman Johnny Temple will be the Cincinnati Redlegs leadoff man tomorrow when the Reds open their grapefruit exhibition season against the Chicago White Sox.

Temple hit .307 last season when he batted sixth most of the time.

"I'm sure hitting in the leadoff position won't hurt my batting," Johnny said. "It also means that I'll get to the plate more often."

Manager Birdie Tebbetts said Art Fowler, Corky Valentine and Bill Werle will share the mound duties.

A hint of the lineup the Redlegs may utilize during the regular season was contained in the lineup announced for tomorrow's exhibition:

One drawback in leading off with McMillan is that it leaves the Reds with little speed after Bell. This leads to trade rumors at Plant Field which point to Junior Gilliam of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Reds might give up Greengrass or Post for Gilliam. Junior would be leadoff man and Temple would then bat sixth again.

Front office officials, of course, are mum on any potential trades.

The last intrasquad game of spring training was played yesterday with the Kluszewskis downing the Jablonskies 5-2 in eight innings.

Big Klu hit his first home run of 1955, over the rightfield fence.

NCAA Delays Announcement On Video Plan

CHICAGO (AP) — College football fans remained in doubt today over what games they are going to see on their television screens next fall.

The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. television committee yesterday again postponed plans to announce its 1955 program until next Monday.

This was the second successive delay on the plans outlined in Chicago two weeks ago.

E. L. Romeny, chairman of the NCAA TV committee and commissioner of the Mountain States Conference, ended a two-day meeting in New York yesterday and said the plan would be mailed to NCAA membership for a vote and the result would be announced Monday.

Golf League To Meet

The Marion Industrial Golf League will hold its first meeting of the year Thursday at 8 p.m. in the American Legion Dugout on S. High St. for the purpose of organizing for the approaching season.

All merchants or members of industry interested in sponsoring a team this year are invited to attend the meeting, Jerry Wynn, league president, announced.

The 1955 season will open in mid-April. Last year, 10 teams operated in the Industrial League.

Coaches' Ban on Photography Protested by Kentucky Editor

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Martha Comer, editor of the Maysville Independent, said a decision by coaches to bar newspaper photographers from a high school basketball tournament was "an indefensible suppression of the news."

In a telegram addressing coaches of the 2nd region high school basketball tournament which opens today, Mrs. Comer asked the coaches to reconsider their ruling "in order not to discriminate against newspapers in the performance of their obligation, which is to give the news . . . ."

The editor, chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee for Kentucky newspaper members of The Associated Press, sent her protest in care of Ed Arnold, managing editor of the Madisonville Messenger.

The Messenger reported the coaches had voted to bar photographers from the tournament because they said flash blubs bothered their players. Arnold contacted Ted Sanford, commissioner of the Kentucky High School Athletic Assn. Sanford pointed out that photographers were welcomed at the state tournament, but said he lacked authority to overrule the coaches in a regional tourney.

Mrs. Comer said the ruling violated "the people's rights to freedom in information," and told the coaches "your unwarranted seizure of news prerogatives is completely contrary to press relations maintained elsewhere in Kentucky."

Practically all our states increased in population from 1940 to 1950, with California leading the parade with a 53.3 per cent increase.

Phillie Ace Slowed by Arm Injury

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

If the Philadelphia Phillies are to be pennant contenders, they'll need all the help thay can get from ace left-hander Curt Simmons. Without an effective Simmons, there's no telling how embarrassed rookie Manager Mayo Smith might be in September.

That same old ailment that plagued him through most of the 1954 season is back and Curt is behind the rest of the hurlers in the Phillies' Clearwater, Fla., camp No sooner did he begin throwing last week than the arm began to ache

He was asked if it felt any better today, and he said gloomily

"Not yet It feels like it's in there pretty deep"

The ache is at the top of his arm and although it bothered him most of last year, Curt still managed to win 14 games It usually bothered him after he pitched, rather than before

So far, Mayo has been lucky Except for Simmons' pain he has had few troubles His club is hustling and he likes the looks of some of the young pitchers

But another newcomer to the major league ranks isn't having things so easy Pinky Higgins of the Boston Red Sox watched outfielder Carl Olson smash into the left field wall in Sarasota and suffer a mild cerebral concussion

The flychaser was taken to a hospital He was resting today although he suffered abrasions of the left ear and left hand

Joe Black, the big Negro fastballer who created a sensation with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1952 only to drop into oblivion the past two years, has impressed Manager Walt Alston.

He took a turn on the mound in an intrasquad game yesterday, and Alston liked what he saw

"Black looked good," said the skipper "He is working on a half-speed pitch which may help him considerably."

In the Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees camps at Bradenton and St Petersburg there were old stories being retold.

Outfielder Andy Pafko of the Braves and first baseman Joe Collins of the Yanks were fighting off aspirants for their jobs

The veteran Pafko is being challenged for the right field berth by Henry Aaron.

Brief Quail Season for Ohio Asked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The quail population in southwestern Ohio is high enough to permit an experimental open season for hunting, the Ohio House Conservation Committee was told last night

A 10-day open season was suggested by a half-dozen sportsmen

Their stand was supported by Dr Charles Dambach chief of the state wildlife division who reported quail is plentiful in southwestern Ohio — equal to the best quail ranges in the country

Dambach's report suggested limited quail shooting on state-owned lands That would help determine how big bag limits should be, he said

The quail—known to many as the bob-white—was on the gamebird list for a generation Four years ago it was put back on the gamebird list so the wildlife division could spend state money to propagate the bird legally

With no hunting permitted Dr Dambach testified the quail population varies little from one year to the next

Speaking in support of the first legal quail shooting in more than 40 years were Bernard Burton and Ed Guiliana of Hamilton County and J Vernon Groff a New Lebanon farmer who said he goes to Michigan every year to hunt grouse

Toledoan Loses In Court Battle Over Turnpike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cooley Ellis of Toledo lost a round in his court fight with the Ohio Turnpike Commission over rights to the remainder of his land taken for construction of a toll road across northern Ohio.

In a previous case, the Ohio Supreme Court held that Ellis could erect billboards and signs on the remainder of his land near Maumee, Toledo suburb. Ellis later amended his petition in the court of appeals. That court sustained a commission motion to strike the petition change and Ellis appealed to the high court. The Supreme Court refused to review the case.

Ellis claimed exact turnpike boundaries and access rights were not defined for his land. He claimed he could not lease remaining portions of his land for a shopping center until such a determination was made.

The Supreme Court refused to review appellate court reversal of an Ashland County Common Pleas Court decision for Ray V. Keen who built and sold a house to Herman B. and Hellen P. Galvin for $19,200. The Galvins sued for $5,000 damages because of alleged defects. The appellate court returned the case to the trial court for further proceedings.

Recreation Leader Rehired at Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — Re-employment of Alex Kish, a Bucyrus High School teacher, as city recreation director took place here Monday night at a meeting of the municipal recreation commission.

The commission also reappointed all nine members of the municipal baseball commission. Commissioners include Fred Trautman, Kish, Ted Baker, E. S. Lutz, Lee Stuckman, Lawrence Schott, E. B. Hagaman, Russell Miller and Mayor Frank P. Sitler.

Kish will receive $1,000 in salary for the season. In addition he will be paid $65 a month for five months for furnishing a jeep, used in the recreation program.

The recreation commission deferred action on a request by Rev. M. P. Paetznick of St. Paul's Lutheran Church for use of the baseball field at Harmon playground for a Pony League baseball program. Boys between the ages of 12 and 14 would play in the league.

Jet Fighter Bombers Try for Speed Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force said today that eight F84F Thunderstreak jet fighter bombers were scheduled to attempt a west-east speed record today.

The jets were at International Airport, Los Angeles, where the first was scheduled to take off about 10:30 a.m. EST.

Some of the jets were scheduled to make midair refueling contacts with tanker planes en route to Floyd Bennett Field, N. Y. Two of the jets were to attempt the flight nonstop.

The present official record is 4 hours, 6 minutes, 16 seconds for the 2,445 miles.

The Air Force said the record attempt would be under the official rules of the National Aeronautical Assn. and the Federation Aeronautique Internationale and would be timed by an NAA contest board.

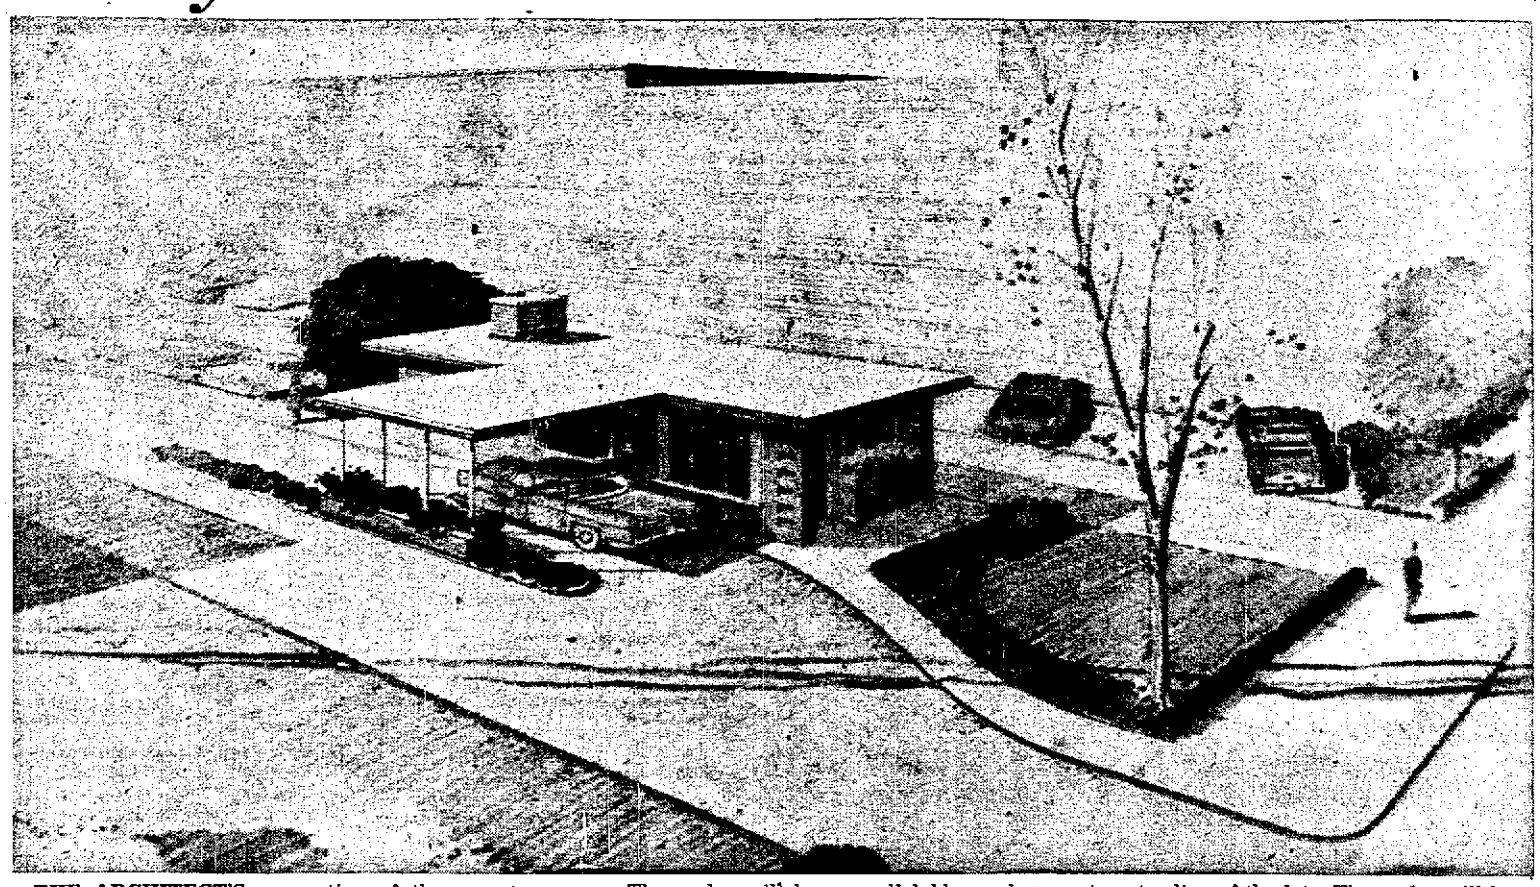
County Bank Branch To Have Drive-In Windows



THE ARCHITECT'S conception of the new Marion County Bank drive-in branch now under construction on the old YMCA site on S. State St. is shown here. This view is from State St. looking northwest. The bank will have two drive-in windows, one on the north side and one on the south side, shown here under the canopy. There also will be a small lobby and teller's desk inside the building. The parking facilities to the north and west of the building will have spaces for a total of 27 cars. Constructed of brick and stainless steel in contemporary design, the building will be 46 feet long by 16 feet wide and will be approximately on the east-west center line of the lot. There also will be a night depository box under the canopy on the south side. There will be a basement with employes' rest rooms and an underground security vault. Plans are to have a safety deposit department in the basement. The project was designed by the Marion architectural firm of Burris and Edwards.

Traffic Cases In City Court

Four drivers were assessed a total of $60 in fines when they pleaded guilty to traffic charges in Marion Municipal Court Tuesday. Two of the fines and costs were suspended.

The drivers and charges were: Harry S. Wickersham, 47, of Caledonia, failure to heed a stop sign, fine and costs suspended; Joseph Sensabaugh, 46, of St. Louisville, passing in a no pasing zone; W. A. Ranzau, 55, of Toledo, crossing a yellow line; and Paul H. Naher, 49, of near Prospect, failure to yield the right of way, fine and costs suspended.

try would become a backward one."

The committee said the June 1953 decisions remain the basis of the party's policies but the mistakes must be corrected. The party's main task, the statement declared, was now to crush and completely isolate all "harmful rightist ideas."

A Budapest radio broadcast, heard in Vienna, said the Central Committee accused the 59-year-old Premier of "protecting the undermining work of bourgeois circles inside and outside the party."

The Budapest government announced in mid-February that Nagi had had a "serious" heart attack and would not be back in his office until "probably some time in April."

The party attack on the Premier symbolized the continuance in power of the country's real Communist boss Matyas Rakosi. Nagy replaced Rakosi as premier in July 1953 after Stalin's death, but Rakosi continued the No. 1 man in the party Politburo.

It remained to be seen whether he would take the premiership back or would still wield power from his party post, in the manner of Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev.

Back in Limelight

When Khrushchev early this year announced the Soviet Union's return to the Stalin policy of emphasis on heavy industry, Rakosi stepped back into the limelight to announce the same switch in Hungary.

Vienna newspapers have speculated that the new premier might be either Defense Minister Mihaly Farkas or Vice Premier Istvan Hidas, formerly minister of heavy industry.

It appeared likely that Nagy would fall a lot farther than Malenkov, who was only demoted to a deputy premiership. The Soviet leader lost his job—officially—because he wasn't capable of running his government. The Hungarian party, however, was bitter in its denunciation of Nagy.

The committee resolution said the Premier, with "certain other comrades in the ministries and in the press . . . cheated the working class with hollow and demagogic promises and spread among the workers an atmosphere of unconcern." This, said the party, resulted in falling production during 1954. The "promises" referred to were the Malenkov aims of more consumer goods.

The broadcast declared:

"Under the influence of these rightist deviationists, industry slowed its production, socialist work output decreased and the discipline of the citizens slackened."

time as the official state time from April to October.

The House yesterday passed and sent to the Senate a bill to halt abandonment of refrigerators that might become "death traps" for children. The vote was 121-5. The measure carries a maximum $200 fine for the abandonment of ice boxes without removing latches and other hardware or securing them against entrance.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill providing that villages with 5,000 registered electors automatically would become cities. Under present law, city status depends on the federal census taken every 10 years.

While the House was approving another measure—a bill to allow county workers six paid holidays a year—the Senate was passing only one minor bill.

But today, the Senate votes on three bills, including one to create the position of administrative assistant to the Supreme Court of Ohio.

Lausche Appointments

Three major appointments of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche came before the Republican dominated Senate this afternoon with some possible verbal fireworks in the offing. They include appointment of:

Edward J. Kenealy, Cleveland law department utility rate expert, as a member of the state utilities commission.

Zoyd M. Flaler of Coldwater as public works director.

William C. Bryant of Columbus as state liquor director.

Sidetracked by a House committee and probably dead for this session of the General Assembly is a bill to substitute the gas chamber for the electric chair for the execution of death sentences. Sponsors asked the Ohio Legislative Service Commission, a fact-finding body controlled by the Legislature, to study the proposal and report to the next General Assembly.

Taxes

Johnson said the Senate will take up the bill tomorrow under an agreement not to begin voting until Monday at the earliest.

Sees Action by Deadline

He predicted a tax measure would be laid on President Eisenhower's desk "days" before the scheduled April 1 drop in corporation income and excise tax rates. Both House and Senate bills would postpone the drop for a year, saving about three billion dollars in revenue.

The proposed $10 cut would cost the Treasury about $1,100,000,000 annually. But by repealing a special $5 tax exemption effective on stock dividend income this year, Democratic strategists figured about 360 million dollars of this less would be made up.

Furthermore, an estimated 364-million-dollar revenue loss is expected this year in speeded-up depreciation allowances on new plant and equipment. Tax specialists said this loss would mount much higher next year.

Princess Margaret To Marry Townsend, Royal Source Says

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret intends to marry 40-year-old RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend this fall, an informant in touch with the royal family said today.

Townsend himself, a divorced man, was quoted as saying:

There can be nothing said until the time is ready or somebody else does something."

The 24-year-old princess is expected to renounce her right of succession to the throne to smooth the way for her wedding to a commoner, according to the informant, who refused to permit use of his name.

Margaret's marriage to the war hero, father of two children, would defy the Church of England's ban on the remarriage of divorced persons.

Buckingham Palace maintained its traditional silence on reports concerning the royal family's personal plans. But available information tended to corroborate the report that Margaret and Townsend are going ahead with wedding plans.

Even a princess can change her mind, however, and Townsend himself presumably could erect great obstacles to the marriage by indiscreet remarks.

There were suggestions — naturally not confirmed — that news about the royal romance is being leaked deliberately to the British press.

The aim of that apparently would be to determine how the British people react. Such publicity also would avoid the public shock which developed when Edward VIII's romance with Mrs. Wallis Simpson got in the British papers only just before his abdication to marry her.

New rumors of the Margaret-Townsend romance were splashed in two of London's biggest Sunday newspapers three days ago.

Galion Councilmen Plan Next Move in Electric Program

GALION — Legislation was passed at a special meeting of City Council Tuesday night to proceed with plans for Project No. 2 of the modernization of the electrical distribution system of Galion.

This was a resolution granting permission to Emery, Marker and Campbell, consulting engineers of Toledo, O., to proceed with detailed plans and specifications for the erection of a sub-station adjacent to the Galion municipal light and power plant on Primrose St. The sub-station will have a capacity of 5,000 KVA, with provision to add another unit if needed. It will take until Sept. 1, at the earliest, before it will be completed, city officials explained.

The light plant is operating at full capacity at present, it was pointed out. If anything should go wrong at the plant in the day time, as it did during a recent night storm, city officials believe the power would be off for seven or eight hours. Providing there are no break-downs at the plant, it can operate successfully until the new sub-station is completed, it was explained.

high schools has, consequently, dropped, he explained.

Consolidation, the speaker said, does not mean that there will be less expense, but it does mean that "you receovoe more for the money you spend."

ONE ADVANTAGE of consolidated school units is the elimination of duplication in schools in the county, he said. It is a matter of "pooling common resources for a larger operating unit."

Consolidation, the speaker continued, would enable teachers to specialize and become better trained for specific subjects. There could be more sections of various classes. For example, instead of one general English course, there could also be a college prep English course.

There are disadvantages in consolidation, the speaker admitted, but these could even become advantageous through intelligent planning. He pointed out that a larger school unit would mean more teachers to be hired, a transportation problem for the larger area included in the consolidated district, a longer school day for elementary pupils and longer recess and a "straight-through" schedule for the high school students. He suggested that on the elementary level, the longer school day would ultimately mean a longer recess period which might be used for study in music and art.

A GENERAL question and answer period followed Rich's talk. One question which arose during the period, concerned the determining of a location for a consolidated school. The speaker answered that probably the best solution would be to have a survey conducted by "disinterested" persons to determine the population center of the proposed district and convenience of location for transportation needs.

The question of the average enrollment of an efficient consolidated school brought the answer that a unit with about 600 pupils seemed most suitable.

Following the discussion, Rich showed colored slides of consolidated schools in various counties of the state.

is studying the matter in a search for peace.

"So far these efforts have not been rewarded by any success. The Chinese Communists seem to be determined to try to conquer Formosa.

"Small nations cannot easily be self-confident when they are next door to Communist China. Its almost unlimited manpower would easily dominate, and could quickly engulf, the entire area were it not restrained by the mutual security structure which has been erected.

"But that structure will not hold if it be words alone. Essential ingredients are the deterrent power of the United States and our willingness to use that power in response to a military challenge.

Reds Seeking Test

"The Chinese Communists seem determined to make such a challenge. At the same time they are persistently trying to belittle our power and to throw doubt on our resolution."

Dulles added that the Chinese Reds, by claiming great victories in Korea and in the recent Tachen Islands evacuation, as well as in Indochina last summer, attempt to portray the United States as a "paper tiger" on whose strength small nations cannot rely.

"We must, if occasion offers, make it clear that we are prepared to stand firm and, if necessary, meet hostile force with a greater force that we possess," the secretary said.

Dulles described U.S. strategy in defense of Formosa as flexible and said:

"How to implement this flexible defense of Formosa the President will decide, in the light of his judgment as to the over-all value of certain coastal positions to the defense of Formosa, and the cost of holding these positions."

Galion Motorist Fined Following 2-Car Mishap

GALION — Pleading guilty to a charge of unsafe operation, Daniel L. Feight, 21, of Galion, was fined $20 and costs when give a hearing before Mayor Francis Schalip Tuesday morning. Feight was cited following an automobile collision at E. Church and N. East St. Monday night.

Officers, investigating the accident, said that Feight told them he was driving 40 miles an hour and did not see a car that had stopped for the traffic signal ahead of him. Feight's car crashed into the rear of the standing automobile which was driven by William Gene Ing of Galion. Ing's wife, Sue, 22, received a scalp laceration and was taken to Community Hospital for treatment.

state last year only 24 per cent of the traffic deaths were pedestrians. This is 51 per cent below Marion's tally.

Even in cities of Marion's population classification, the average tally was lower. Cities with 25,000 to 50,000 population had only a 50 per cent tally of pedestrian deaths out of all traffic deaths.

Director Felty said darkness is a contributing factor to many of the deaths. Some 53 per cent of the walkers killed in Ohio last year were killed at night.

Worst month was October with December and September following in close order, Felty added.

Knowland Sees U.S. Defending Offshore Isands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today he is fully confident that the Quemoy and Matsu islands are "not going to be placed on any bargain counter" for a deal with the Chinese Communists.

The Senate's Republican leader said in an interview he is convinced "any major effort to take these islands will be resisted by us." The offshore island groups are held by Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

Replies to Eden

Knowland thus replied to a suggestion by British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden yesterday that the Nationalists withdraw troops from some islands off China as a prelude to any cease-fire agreement.

Secretary of Defense Wilson told newsmen yesterday the loss of Quemoy and Matsu would hamper the defense of Formosa but "in the long run would not make too much difference in the result."

Knowland avoided direct comment on this statement, but Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said he doesn't agree with Wilson.

"We must keep Chiang Kai-shek's forces on Formosa in readiness to strike back at the Communists if they should break the truce in either Korea or in Indochina," Smith said. "To carry out such a strike, they would need Quemoy and Matsu as operating bases."

Indirect Reference

Secretary of State Dulles, in his nationwide broadcast last night, did not mention Quemoy and Matsu by name, but he obviously had them in mind when he said:

"How to implement . . . defense of Formosa the President will decide, in the light of his judgment as to the over-all value of certain coastal positions to the defense of Formosa, and the cost of holding these positions."

Secretary Wilson, saying he does not think the Chinese Communists can successfully invade Formosa, said only President Eisenhower could "clarify our intentions or our plans about the offshore islands."

British Position

By George Sokolsky

Winston Churchill is in an extremely difficult position. Since 1946, every propagandistic weapon has been used by the British government to condemn Chiang Kai-shek and to ruin his reputation in the eyes of the British people. This propaganda has spread over the continent of Europe and has manifested itself in such a country as India. The political reason for this activity was to prevent Asiatic diversions from lessening the interest of the United States in the affairs of Europe.

SOKOLSKY

Even before 1946, Gen. MacArthur suffered from Washington's concentration on European affairs. Frazier Hunt, in his book, "The Untold Story of Douglas MacArthur," details MacArthur's difficulties arising from lack of material while he was actually fighting the Asiatic war.

-:-

NOW CHURCHILL is faced by a prepared public opinion in his own country which is embarrassing because it cannot be turned. Great Britain is definitely anti-Chiang Kai-shek, whose side has never been properly presented to the British people.

The situation is now such that it is developing into a widening breach between Great Britain and the United States at a time when such a breach can be damaging to both countries and to the unity of the West.

On this subject, Churchill has served a warning to his own countrymen:

"The decision on whether or when these particular islands should be evacuated is not one the burden of which falls upon Her Majesty's government, as we must recognize the natural preoccupations of other governments who are immediately affected by the threatened attack from Communist China.

"This is especially true at a time when the Chinese Communists keep stridently asserting that the islands are to be regarded as a stepping stone to the seizure of Formosa itself, with all that that must mean for the Chinese Nationalists under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who have been given shelter and protection there by the United States, and to whom the United States are bound by over 14 years comradeship in war, both against the Chinese Communists and the Japanese invaders of China."

CHURCHILL'S USE of language is never casual. He is speaking not of Formosa, but of what he calls "the coastal islands" which today amount to Matsu and Kuemoy.

If, by any means, these two areas fall into the hands of the Chinese Communists, it is doubtful whether Formosa is defensible. But Formosa is only a phase of a broader situation which involves South Korea, Viet Nam and Thailand.

Regarding Viet Nam and Thailand, there can be no doubt as to the British interest. But for Formosa, the British government cannot now get popular support to go along wholeheartedly with the American program which must include defense of Matsu and Quemoy or mean nothing.

The dilemma is not readily dissolvable and is of benefit to the Communists. The great fear of Europe, particularly in Great Britain, is that resistance to the imperialism of Red China may drag all the world into an atomic war in which Europe will be the speediest and most disastrous sufferer.

IN AN EARLIER statement, Sir Anthony Eden undoubtedly expressed European opinion when he said:

"In this situation the first concern of Her Majesty's government is to stop the fighting. They have therefore continued to urge on all concerned the importance of doing this and of preventing a wider conflagration. A solution of these delicate and difficult problems is not to be reached by force. A settlement can only be arrived at by the peaceful processes of patient negotiation."

Unfortunately, it is not to Chou En-lai's interest to negotiate for a cease-fire or a peace; it is to the advantage of the Chinese Communists to capture Formosa and to establish beyond doubt their hegemony over the states of Southeast Asia to the borders of India.

THUS FAR, they have rejected the British and Indian efforts to establish a modus operandi for a cease-fire. If they accept such proposals now, it will only be if they are assured that the United States will recede from its unwillingness to recognize Red China and will vote for a seat on the Security Council of the United Nations. Chou En-lai cannot accept "the two Chinas" formula and survive.

As Eden says, it is a delicate and difficult problem and, for the moment, there seems to be no hope for a solution. Maybe, it would be wise to leave it that way.

Red Meat

By Victor Riesel

And now we're paying millions of American dollars to support Communist pigs on the animal farms of Sovietized Poland.

VICTOR RIESEL

Lest anyone think I'm stooping to name-calling, by referring to Communist pigs, I hasten to explain that I mean ham on the hoof, which is providing the Polish treasury with millions of U.S. dollars desperately needed by the Soviet world.

The Sovietized Poles, now actually run by the Russian Army, are annually dumping some 25 million dollars worth of canned pork and hams into the U.S. Not only is our own farmers' market being hit by this Soviet competition, but it is cutting into the jobs of AFL meatcutters as well.

However, the scandal of it all is that these Red Polish pork and ham imports flow into the U.S. and are sold to our consumers—uninspected.

IF THIS WERE just a trickle of Red meat from inside the Iron Curtain, it could be ignored. But it is a flood of 19,717,000 pounds in 1954.

This is a heavy increase of Communist meat imports over 1953—a 5 million pound increase. It means that the meat from the low standard slaughter houses of Soviet Poland, is reaching thousands of U.S. tables. European standards are far below ours. Communist standards are in the lowest depths.

Yet the Polish meat arrives here in sealed cans, encased in gelatine—and it pours through our customs free of inspection.

So, this week the AFL's Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butcher Workmens Union made plans to dam up the flow of this Soviet canned foods. The national union leaders, Earl Jimerson and Pat Gorman, decided, in their Chicago headquarters to assign the New York and New Jersey Butcher and Food Workers Council and its leaders to launch the campaign.

The council warns that its own information from AFL sources abroad convinces it that the Polish hams are packed in unsanitary conditions—and could be the carriers of tuberculosis, and trichinosis.

THE AFL BUTCHER Workers Council pointed out that the Soviets could not begin to match our standards which is described thus:

American slaughterhouses and packinghouses must pass rigid federal and state inspection at any moment before any U.S. meat processor can sell his produce interstate.

Our government can even decide on the construction and physical layout of a slaughterhouse so it will comply with the full sanitation, health and processing procedures of the federal law.

Every hog, every head of cattle is subjected to checks and double-checks by the Department of Agriculture. In some instances, inspectors will slice open the glands of animals to guarantee absolute purity before a single pound of meat starts on its way to the breakfast and dinner tables.

SOME OF OUR producers even use ultra-violet rays to wipe out any trace of trichinosis in pigs. Then, only after chief inspectors pass on each animal, is the product given the Department of Agriculture stamp.

The union itself demands that its members keep a sharp eye out for any sign of decay or illness.

Finally, if from any source there are reports of inedible meats, the stuff is destroyed. In fact, there have been instances of wholesale destruction of cattle where the animals have been believed to be a threat to health.

The meatcutters union officials point out that all this makes no sense if we permit the nation to be flooded with Polish hams and pork in uninspected cans.

Not only is Poland receiving 25 million dollars in cash from us—but the union believes that we leave ourselves wide open to damage in many ways.

IF WE DON'T inspect the Polish cans, how do we know what's in them? The food may not only be diseased, it may be deliberately tampered with—this is the Soviet Union we're dealing with.

Furthermore, asks the district council of meatcutters, who will guarantee that there is food in all those cans? Anything could be shipped into the U.S. via this route.

The union hopes to dam the flow—and seeks cooperation from U.S. farmers, labor, waterfront workers and the housewives whose tables may be laden with Soviet meats.

"Marion's Old Reliable"

Gisele MacKenzie

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

There are no people like show people.

But they are generally easier to love at a distance than they are to like after you get to know them. Seen up close, it is often hard to glimpse the human being beneath the shining ego.

HAL BOYLE

An exception is Gisele MacKenzie, the sprightly young singing star of "The Hit Parade." She's a natural. Right now I'm desperately in love with her. So are at least a dozen guys I meet every day, from executives to countermen in drug stores.

The funny thing about us Gisele-lovers is that each of us thinks he "discovered" her all by himself. But we are united in a firm belief that a Hollywood or Broadway producer is a fellow who would starve to death in a gold mine, otherwise why hasn't some producer taken the scales off his eyes and starred our girl in a big film or musical show?

MY WIFE HAS taken my autumnal adulation for Miss MacKenzie in great stride. She has been through this kind of thing before.

"Any day now I expect you to tumble for Lassie," Frances said philosophically. "After all you've been moon-eyed over Helen Hayes and Martha Scott for years. Does this mean you're throwing them over? What has Gisele got that's so diferent?"

"About everything," I replied. "She can sing and dance and play the piano and the violin. All kinds of talent. She's wonderful at light comedy, and—"

"But what kind of girl is she? Why don't you take her to lunch?

So I did. We met at the new celebrity filling station run by P. J. Moriarty, who is known on Sixth Avenue as "the taxpayer's Toots Shor."

GISELE SHOWED up in a fur coat. For some reason I showed up like a schoolboy with an apple in my hand, which Miss MacKenzie accepted very graciously. She is just over 5 feet 6 weighs 120 pounds and has snapping dark brown eyes that are fun to let your mind wander in. Over a plate of corned beef hash topped with one of the most romantic looking eggs I've seen in years, I asked Gisele to tell me about herself.

And she said:

"I'm from Canada, and my father is a doctor. I studied to be a concert violinist, and became a singer by accident. Never did take a lesson.

"I'm mad about trees. I live near Central Park because I like to walk there with my two dachshunds.

"BUT I'D RATHER cook than do anything. I name my recipes after the friends who gave them to me—such as chicken Morgan, porkchops Paul, Casserole Aunt Esther, meat loaf Diane.

"My own favorite is a compote, but it is made with vegetables instead of fruit, and I never tell anyone all the ingredients I put into it. But it has mushrooms, bacon, scallions, fresh tomatoes, and all kinds of herbs.

"I've made about 38 records—my latest is an album of French nursery songs I learned as a child—but I've never had a really big hit. Sure I'd love to be in a Broadway show, but only a rich man's daughter can wait around for the right part.

"But I'm happy with what I'm doing now. I love living, and I believe in happiness. But doesn't happiness consist in liking what you get as much as getting what you like?

"WHAT AM I afraid of? Oh, spiders and all crawly things. But most of all I'm afraid of making a mistake while singing a lyric with about 30 million people watching. I don't sleep much the night before a show.

"My hobbies are movies, TV, and perfume. I spend four nights at home watching television and answering fan mail. I've learned to do both things at the same time, but sometimes I get the plot I'm watching mixed up in the letter I'm writing.

"I keep about 14 kinds of perfume, and douse myself with it before I fall asleep. When I get tired of several kinds of scents, I mix them all up and make a new one. My favorite right now is one called Vent Vert, or 'Green Wind.' It makes me feel like a Christmas tree."

She smelled like one, too, a nice clean spruce odor. And that's what Gisele has herself—a fresh forest zest. When I came home my wife took one look at me and said:

"I see you're really gone this time. What about poor little Helen Hayes?"

"I'm afraid," I replied caddishly. "Helen will have to struggle the rest of the way on her own."

There really hasn't been a case of theatrical puppy love like this in the family since grandpa wrote anonymous mash notes to Lillian Russell.

YMCA Physical Director Talks To Rotary Club

Vern Miller Addresses Members on Water Safety, Urges Training

Marion Rotary Club members heard a discussion of water safety principles by Vern Miller, director of physical education at the Marion YMCA, at their weekly meeting Tuesday noon at Hotel Harding.

Speaking on the subject, "Exploding Old Wives Tales About Water," Miller pointed out that 7,000 Americans lost their lives last year in the water. Since the ratio of those encountering water dangers is much less than those subject to traffic hazards, for instance, the number of water accidents is high in proportion and needs investigation, he said.

Ideas Peculiar

Since the beginning of time people have had a lot of peculiar ideas about the water, he said. As an example, he described the many ways that have been advanced for locating a dead body underwater.

He traced the history of artificial respiration, which was first described in written form in the Bible, and evolved through a number of methods until the discovery of 1932 of the Neilson method, which has been taught by the YMCA ever since.

Water is not a natural element for a human being, he pointed out, and man is in no way physically endowed to cope with it without training. He discounted the idea of seeking to teach a non-swimmer to swim by tossing him into the water. Swimming is a learned skill for a human, he stressed.

Miller discussed at length the buoyancy factors in a human body and explained a person's ability to float on the water in terms of specific gravity.

Panic Chief Trouble

Most tragedies in the water result from panic rather than from actual physical trouble, he declared. He reminded that most drownings resulted from panic and not from physical incapacity caused by the cramps.

He also outlined some of the mistaken ideas about undertows and rip tides, and said that here again panic usually brought on the trouble rather than a swimmer's physical inability to cope with the currents.

The speaker was introduced by Marion L. McDaniel, Rotary program chairman for March.

Visiting Rotarians at the meeting were Clayton W. Brooks of Bucyrus and James Blair of Delaware. Guests included Watt Merchant and Ernest G. Siefert of Marion.

Crop control and government aid to farmer aren't entirely new. A minimum price was set on tobacco in 1631.

CLEARED BY RUSSIA. Anna Louise Strong, 69, American writer who was arrested and deported from the Soviet Union in 1949, was formally absolved of charges that she had spied on Russia. A Soviet Government announcement said that accusations against her had been investigated and found groundless. Miss Strong said at her Los Angeles home that she is happy to hear Russia has cleared her of spy charges because "I knew I was never guilty of espionage."

One person was injured in the lone traffic accident investigated on Marion County highways Tuesday by the state highway patrol. City police reported five minor, no-injury collisions on city streets.

Cars driven by Charles A. Foos, 17, of near Marion and Leroy Emory, 24, of Bucyrus collided in front of the Greyhound Bus Depot at 9:46 p.m.

A collision at S. High St. and E. Church St. at 7:12 p.m. involved a parked car owned by Leroy Krider of 769 Merkle Ave. and another car driven by Charles C. Robinson, 74, of 574 Lee St.

Driver of one car involved in a collision at Main and Center St. at 7:43 p.m. was not known, according to the police report of the accident. A car, owned by Edward Richardson of 251 Fairview St., struck another car driven by Carolyn M. Tarantino of 351 Commercial St., police said.

Both of the two remaining accidents in the city caused less than $100 total damage, police estimated.

Truck Driver Injured

A Marion truck driver, Russell G. Schoffner, 39, of 370 Park Blvd., sustained a minor injury in an accident investigated early this morning by state highway patrolmen.

The accident occurred at 7 a.m. on Route 4 about two miles south of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad tracks south of Marion.

Schoffner told investigating patrolmen that as he got alongside the first of two automobiles he was attempting to pass, he saw the first automobile was starting to pass the lead vehicle. He pulled over to the left berm where he lost control of the tractor-trailer outfit. It struck a state culvert.

The trailer was demolished, and minor damage resulted to the tractor, and Schoffner sustained a minor knee abrasion, patrolmen reported.

Marion Dairy Farmer Named By State Group

William Earl Chosen To Receive Efficiency Award for Operations

William Earl of near Marion has been chosen as one of the six outstanding dairymen in Ohio for the year ending last August by the Ohio Dairymen's Association. He will receive the Dairy Efficiency Award at a banquet to be held March 26 at the North Broadway Church in Columbus

This marks the seventh straight year that a Marion County dairyman has been accorded the honor of being chosen for the award As a winner for the first time, Earl will be presented a plaque for his efficient operations

Each county in the state is permitted to nominate one farmer for the award From the list of nominees, six are chosen as being outstanding

Marion County has had a nominee chosen as one of the most efficient in every year since the program started in 1949 In that first year, two local farmers were honored, Robert Zieg and Paul Lawrence

In considering the nominees, the committee which makes the award examined the feeding programs improvement of pasture and roughage, the breeding program, the herd health and sanitation, milk production practices, buildings on the farm, watering facilities, and improvements made during the year

Other local winners were H J and W R Brooks in 1951 and 1952, Z. C Kline in 1950 and 1953 and Zieg and Lawrence in 1949

Marion County has also been honored for its production tester, Howard Cole, who has been recognized as one of the top 10 production testers in the state every year except one since the program began Announcement of that award is not made until the day of the banquet.

Issue Debated in Assembly

Mutual Savings Societies' Role in Banking Debated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Senate committee yesterday waded into a delicate question: Should mutual savings societies be permitted to engage in commercial banking activities?

The Senate Committee on Banks and Trust Companies heard testimony on a bill which says "no." Later, it will hear testimony on a bill which says "yes."

Only three Ohio firms are involved. They are in Cleveland, Springfield and Marietta.

The firms are a strange breed of cats. They are not banks, yet they are under the control of the state superintendent of banking. They are not savings and loan institutions. They are neither, and yet they serve some of the same functions as both.

The big question at the first hearing seemed to be this: Should the mutual savings societies be permitted to accept checking accounts?

Said Lewis F. Laylin of Cleveland, former vice president of the entral National Bank and special counsel for the Ohio Bankers Assn.:

"Any society operating accounts in this manner is clearly evading the law."

Laylin said the measure heard yesterday, sponsored by Sen. Charles A. Mosher (R-Lorain), is backed by the Ohio Bankers Assn.

Sponsor of the other bill, set for future hearing, is Sen. William H. Deddens (R-Hamilton). His bill would expand the permissible business of mutual societies.

One of Laylin's principal complaints was that while nine Cleveland commercial banks paid nearly 23½ million dollars in federal income taxes in 1953, the Cleveland Society for Savings paid nothing. The Cleveland society, he said, had approximately 10 per cent of the assets of all the banks.

Laylin declared the Cleveland society got into the checking account business in 1938 through a "gentleman's agreement" with the state superintendent of banking. Under questioning, he said the bankers association has not objected until now because there was no great growth in the Cleveland society's checking account business until 1952.

He added the mutual societies have grown in their legitimate fields and, "with their special privileges and with competent management, they will continue to grow and prosper under the restrictions which this bill would redefine."

One-Car Accidents Comprise Third of Highway Fatalities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state highway safety department reported today that nearly one-third of all traffic deaths in Ohio result from one-car accidents.

Said U. C. Felty, department director:

"The driver who is determined to kill himself or a passenger in his car even when he has the road all to himself presents one of the biggest traffic problems we have. There is very little we can do to stop this driver since we cannot anticipate at just what moment he will become careless and be involved in an accident."

He said the department is making the one-car accident problem one of its major studies this year, and will try to reach careless drivers through education.

Felty said figures show that of the 1,865 persons who died in 1954 traffic accidents in Ohio, 533 or 29 per cent died in one-car accidents. In rural fatal accidents the figure jumped to 33 per cent.

Dulles Employs Caution Over Quemoy and Matsus

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration is keeping everybody guessing—not just the Red Chinese—on what it will do if the Communists attack the Quemoy and Matsu islands now held by Chiang Kai-shek.

The administration itself may be guessing right now. Secretary of State Dulles' nationwide talk last night can be interpreted as saying President Eisenhower still hasn't made up his mind.

Dulles, when he spoke of the President's decision on defending the islands, put it in the future tense. Eisenhower and Dulles have persistently avoided flat statements about the islands.

They are close to the Red China coast. Chiang's main forces are on Formosa and the Pescadores Islands, more than 100 miles offshore.

The United States—by a treaty with Chiang and by a special resolution passed by Congress — is pledged to defend Formosa and the Pescadores from Red Chinese attack.

BUT THIS COUNTRY is not pledged to defend any other Chiang-held islands. The President can suit himself about them, depending on whether he thinks they are necessary to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

Dulles said the 'President will decide in the light of his judgment as to the over-all value of certain coastal positions to the defense of Formosa, and the cost of holding those positions."

In a policy speech Feb. 17 Dulles didn't say yes or no about the offshore islands. And yesterday when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee tried to pin him down it was reported he referred back to the February speech.

Secretary of Defense Wilson, at a news conference yesterday said Eisenhower is the only one who can "clarify our intentions or plans."

BUT DULLES appears concerned that the people of Asia may submit to the Red Chinese if they feel the United States is talking big and doesn't back it up.

On Feb. 17 he said a great "danger in Asia is the fear of the many non-Communist peoples that the United States has no real intention of standing firmly behind them."

Last night two days after returning from Asia he said the people of the western Pacific and Southeast Asia will quickly lose their freedom if they think that our love of peace means peace at any price."

Why then if the administration has decided to defend Chiang's offshore islands from Red attack, doesn't it say so? This is an empty question since no one can be sure any decision at all has been made.

If the Reds are kept guessing they may not attack. As long as this country doesn't say it will defend the islands, it could trade them to the Reds—Chiang could hardly veto that since he depends on the United States—if the Communists would agree to a cease-fire. Maybe that's the answer.

Pennsylvania Railroad, CIO Agree on Pact

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The CIO Transport Workers Union today sought agreements with 22 other railroads along the lines of a settlement reached yesterday with the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The settlement averted a threatened strike of 2 000 nonoperating employes of the nation s largest railroad It came after two days of negotiations with Federal Mediator Earl Newlin

Andrew J. Kaelin, TWU international vice president called the PRR settlement a "terrific agreement" and said the union would seek similar terms with the other railroads "wherever applicable "

The agreement reinstates 10 men at the railroad's Conway, Pa., shops with back pay to March 1 It also provides for rehiring 10 unspecified workers from the rolls of those furloughed at Conway. The union had complained that the 10 men had been furloughed in violation of contract agreements

The PRR also agreed to do its own maintenance work "wherever facilities are available' rather than contracting with other firms

Kaelin said this part of the agreement should "return a substantial number" of the union-estimated 12,000 PRR men furloughed

The union claims representation of 20 000 workers on the other 22 railroads, mostly small carriers

In a brief statement from J E McFarland, superintendent of personnel, the PRR said, 'Mediation has been successfully consummated We have reached an amicable agreement with TWU o nthe issues involved "

Ohio Truckers Offer To Assist In Civil Defense

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Trucking Assn. winds up its 37th annual convention here today after three days of conference and sessions on industry problems

Delegates yesterday heard their president Clarence E. Williams suggest use of trucks for mass population evacuation in an atomic attack

Williams said, "Our trucks and large trailer are ideally equipped to carry large numbers of persons away from areas affected by atomic blasts or hydrogen bomb fallout "

He said an evacuation plan covering trucks and terminals of association members would be offered to Civil Defense officials

Delegates also heard staff members of Battelle Memorial Institute discuss methods and results of the institute s recently-released report on Ohio trucking which ranked the industry third largest in the state

Their reports included these findings.

Ohio s trucking industry employs about 250,000

Three-fourths of Ohio truck firms employ less than 300 people.

One-third of Ohioans are served only by truck

Also yesterday, the group's council of safety supervisors elected as chirman G L. Smith of Akron s Motor Cargo Inc

The council said 'Akron would be the site of the association s 1955 truck driving skill contest,

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Couple of Good Shows

Lux Theater's hour-long presentation of the Academy Award-winning movie "Casablanca" the other night was a good show on every count and it raises some interesting questions. In putting it on, television ran off with a fine taut literate movie script and wisely followed it very faithfully.

JOHN CROSBY

In the leads were Paul Douglas, Arlene Dahl and Hoagy Carmichael — all essentially movie people. In other words, the movie crowd was offering itself some stiff competition that night, mostly recruited from its own ranks.

"Casablanca" is the first of four Academy Award-winning pictures to be presented by Lux this month, in case you plan to be home Thursday nights. (NB-TV 10 p.m. EST.) The next one will be "The Life of Emile Zola" with Lee G. Cobb this Thursday, and the others have not been announced. All the dramatic shows on TV seem to be trying to top one another, and this competitive spirit is a perfectly splendid thing for the medium.

LUX THEATER, one of the older dramatic shows, has wandered all over the place, trying to find itself. It started as a half - hour live show from New York. It experimented with film. It moved to Hollywood. It went to an hour. This season, it has been doing adaptations of important movies like "Casablanca" last Thursday.

Just as a production. "Casablanca" was an amazingly suave and professional bit of work, with a great profusion of settings, some excellent lighting and fine unobtrusive direction by Richard Goode. I suppose the movies could do it better, but I doubt that they could improve it enough to send the average homeowner scurrying out to the theater to see it.

"Casablanca" is the story of an American night club owner in French Morocco just after the fall of France. It's got intrigue. It's got war. It's got colorful backgrounds. It's got love — a sort of three-cornered affair, just to make things more interesting.

It has some remarkably interesting minor characters, especially a French officer who has described himself as "only a poor corrupt official" and an impassive piano player. (Hoagy Carmichael.) And it has a strong and satisfying finish. What more can you ask?

PAUL DOUGLAS hasn't either the power or sinister authority of Humphrey Bogart, who did this chore in the movies, but he's a very good actor, indeed, and turned in a fine job. Arlene Dahl is a bit dim as an actress, but she is definitely an eyeful and the cameramen were very, very kind to her — and to us at home.

Altogether it was well worth staying home for. But what I want to know is, how long are the movies going to hand their chief competitor such powerful ammunition?

To turn to other matters, Franchot Tone and Claudette Colbert deserve great credit for their courage in tackling the roles made famous by Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in "The Guardsman" on "The Best of Broadway" the other night.

This is the story of an actor who, dressed as a Turkish guardsman, tires to seduce his own wife and thus thrusts himself into a perfectly delicious dilemma. If he succeeds, he triumphs as an actor —it's a dreadful blow to his pride as a husband. If he fails, he triumphs as a husband but fails as an actor.

THIS WAR BETWEEN a man's ego as a husband and ego as an actor gave Ferenc Molnar an opportunity for some delightful flights of dialogue with which the Lunts had a field day. Much of the delight remained in the TV version which was opulently produced in color.

Franchot Tone, of course, is no Alfred Lunt, though sometimes he seems to be trying some of the same tricks, especially the cracked voice, but he was adequate. Miss Colbert was thoroughly charming as the restless wife.

Faulty Help

EMPORIA, Kan. (AP) — It took more than a flip of a coin to settle some ties in the primary election balloting for Democratic precinct committee posts in Lyon County.

Write-in votes were made for several jobs for which no regular candidate had filed. In some instances tie votes resulted.

It was discovered belatedly that three of the write-in winners after the coins were tossed were rgistred Republicans. The job of filling the vacancies was turned over to the county Democratic committee.

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP)—Police Court Judge John V. Jester was handed a half-gallon jar of moonshine whisky officers offered in evidence against a man charged with transporting it. He unscrewed the cap and inhaled deeply. After a few seconds necessary to get his face back to normal, Jester asked:

"Has this man got a record?" The officers said he did not.

"I believe it," Jester commented. "And if he drinks this stuff he never will."

The officers said the defendant apparently was of the same opinion. They said he told them he bought the whisky from a bootlegger but was unable to drink it and was taking it back when arrested.

Crawford Resident Cited in Court Suit

BUCYRUS — George W. Grant of Bucyrus is named defendant in an action filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here by Joseph L. Smith of Bucyrus.

Smith asks judgment of $2,500 and charges that Grant did take, steal, carry away and convert to his own use and benefit" personal property owned by Smith, and material left in Smith's shop for repair. Grant is owner of the building in which Smith formerly had his shop.

Listed on the petition are 77 items, which Smith alleges that the defendant removed before Nov. 15, 1952. He valued the items at $2,500.

A grand jury refused to return an indictment against Grant in January after he was held to the jury on a larceny charge, filed against him by Smith.

Smith alleged that Grant had sold materials and contents of his shop. Grant claimed that Mrs. Grant had advanced Smith $25 for upholstering materials. He said the amount was never repaid and that Smith had been warned that the contents of the shop would be disposed of if not removed by a certain date. He also said that Smith owed him rent for many months.

City To Enforce Handbill Rule, Chief Coon Says

A warning that it is illegal to attach signs to utility poles in Marion was issued today by Police Chief Thomas B Coon

A section of the city code prohibits such actions and police will arrest any violators he said

The section of the city law referred to is Section 3 1 It states, 'It shall be unlawful for any person to stick paint, brand, stamp, attach hang or suspend upon any house building fence or wall without the consent of the owner or upon any electrical pole or upon any street sidewalk, pavement or other public place any printing writing, painting or other advertisement, bill, notice, sign or poster

Chief Coon said one reason for this warning was a large number of posters attached to utility poles in the city recently

Other sections of the code prohibit placing of handbills in motor vehicles on streets or in other public places and still another section rules it is illegal to throw more than one handbill in any one yard Also a license must be obtained from the City Clerk to pass handbills within the city
